Alumni return to B.G.; Juniors win spirit stick

This was the first year Buffalo Grove had a full graduating class that came home in droves, and it helped current students celebrate many traditional events.

The Junior Class won the spirit award after it accumulated the most points for participation in spirit contests. Among its other awards, the class received points for the best float. The theme of the Junior Class's float was "Bison Got the Beat" which won first place. The float was a jukebox. Shari Siebers, president of the Junior Class, said, "Homecoming is when everybody works together and just has fun."

Friday's pep assembly, another traditional event, permitted classes to compete in different contests, such as pie-eating and root beer chugging contests, tug-of-war, and three-legged and wheel-barrow races. The highlight occurred when Coach Blaney read a poem about the upcoming football game as different things were dumped over his head by varsity players. Blaney said, "It was a complete surprise and lots of fun."

B.G. wins homecoming game 14-7; dance concludes week's events.

Saturday's Homecoming activities started off with the Homecoming football game in the afternoon followed by the Homecoming dance later in the evening.

The Bison started off Saturday's activities by defeating Fremd fourteen to seven. Fremd got the first touchdown, but the Bison came back and defeated them—which made it an exciting game.

"They played like a team, everybody did his job," said spectator Sherri Blum. "After the first half they got it all together and won."

Saturday night the Homecoming dance was held in the school cafeteria. The Pleasure Principle played for the dozens of couples who attended. The group was well received. It was a pleasant way to end the week's hectic events.

1. The stands are full of spectators for the Homecoming game.
2. Couples dance to Pleasure Principle at the Homecoming dance.
3. The Bison run out to beat the Vikings with Coach Riccio's encouragement.
4. Homecoming court: Brian Muenz, Linda Shoemaker, Mark Rusche, Diane DeLeo, John MacIssac, Mary Pat Schmidt, Queen Melinda West, Scott Groot, Brian Allsmiller, Cheryl Pomaro, Brian Monson, Barbara Reiland. On either side of the queen are Lance Riccio and Kim Biere.
5. Dr. Miller greets Kevin O'Neil and Karen Lukasik at the entrance to the dance.

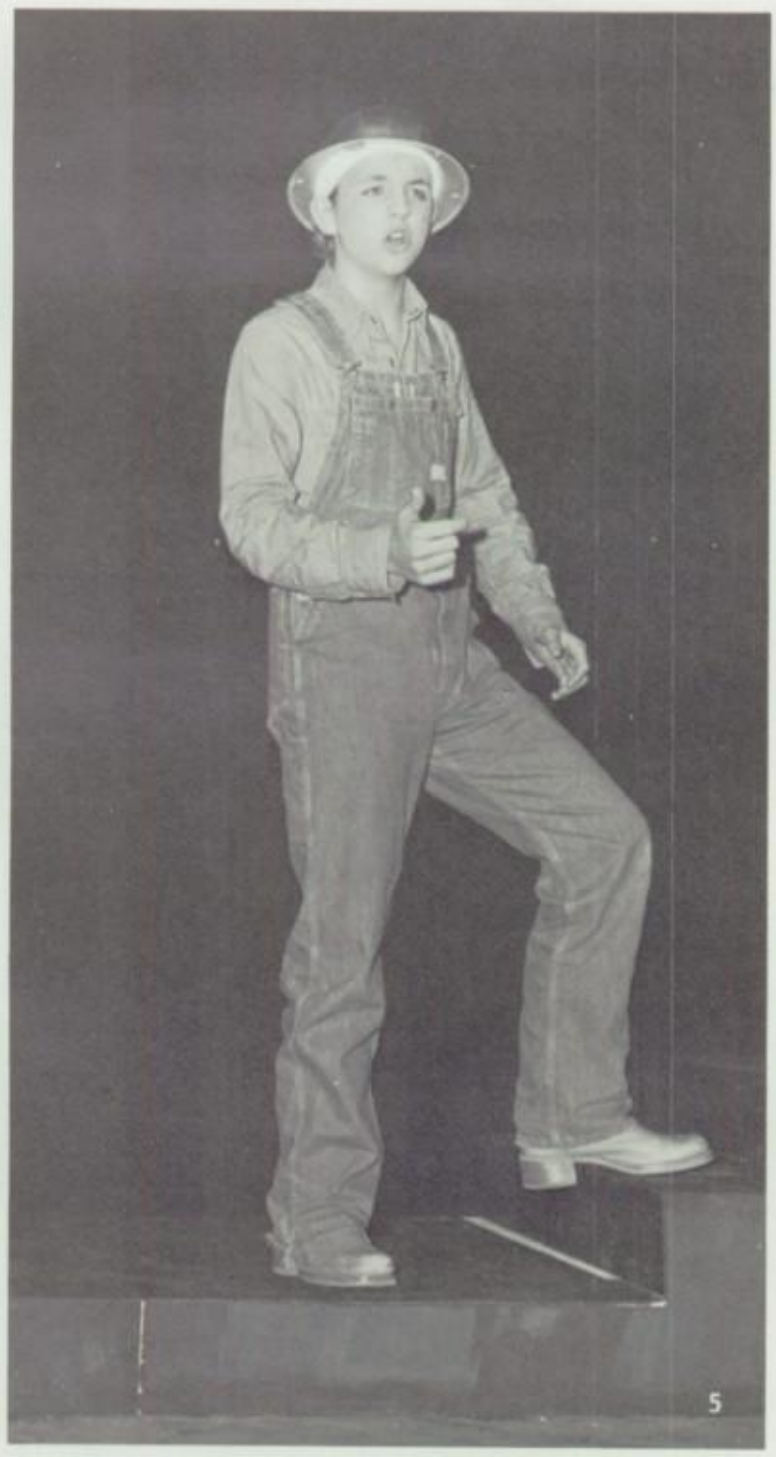
1. Rod McKenzie and Vicki Richter discuss their communication problem in "Feiffer's People".
2. Outstanding dramatic performance in "Hello out There" by Chris Farrell.
3. Rob Wilson puts some oomph into his role in "Under Milkwood".
4. Ted Smart as an outraged husband threatens the innocent victim, Bill Huyser, in "Hello out There".
5. Jim Kindwall in one of several excellant skits in "Feiffer's People".
6. Ms. Schafer instructs the cast of "Feiffer's People" before rehearsing.

'Four by Four' starts off the drama season



"Four by Four", an evening of four one act plays, was presented Oct. 29 and 30.

"Hello Out There" was directed by Mr. Mann. It is a serious drama about a boy falsely accused of rape in a small Texas town.

"A Thurber Carnival," directed by Mr. O'Neill, consisted of three comic skits.

"Under Milkwood," directed by Mr. Marquette, was presented in readers' theatre and dealt with a small Welsh town.

"Feiffers People," consisted of several skits on observations of American life.

This year's fall presentation was different, because it was four plays instead of one full-length drama.

Mr. Marquette decided to do the show, because it gave many more people a chance to act than would have been in a single play.

The cast found it quite humorous when, during one of the rehearsals, Ted Smart as Superman made an entrance by jumping up on a unreinforced platform.

In retrospet, Ms. Schafer said, "They were all outstanding. We worked together and had fun together, and it was worth every minute."

Ford wins by 76% of vote at Buffalo Grove.

Gerald Ford was re-elected to a second term here at Buffalo Grove by a vast margin; he received 76% of the vote; Jimmy Carter 22%; Eugene McCarthy 1%. These results differed from those of the national election.

Mass Media and U.S. History classes held the mock election, which involved the entire student body. It took only eight days to organize the entire project.

Almost 100 students were involved in campaign projects. Campaign posters were made, video commercials shown, and radio commercials played over the intercom.

The project helped students realize the work involved in getting a candidate elected.

While others were working on the mock election, senior Pete André volunteered as a poll watcher in the real election. He became involved through his Political Science class.

"It's totally volunteer work," he said. "The hours are lousy. Your day starts at 5:00 A.M. and ends at 8:00 P.M." In contrast, the polls open at 6:00 A.M. and close at 6:00 P.M. André explained that voters were confused by the votomatic machines used in the election country wide. The machines caused long lines, and people waited as much as one hour to vote.

André said it was illegal for him to touch the ballots; those duties were carried out by the four election judges, who unlike André, were paid for their services.

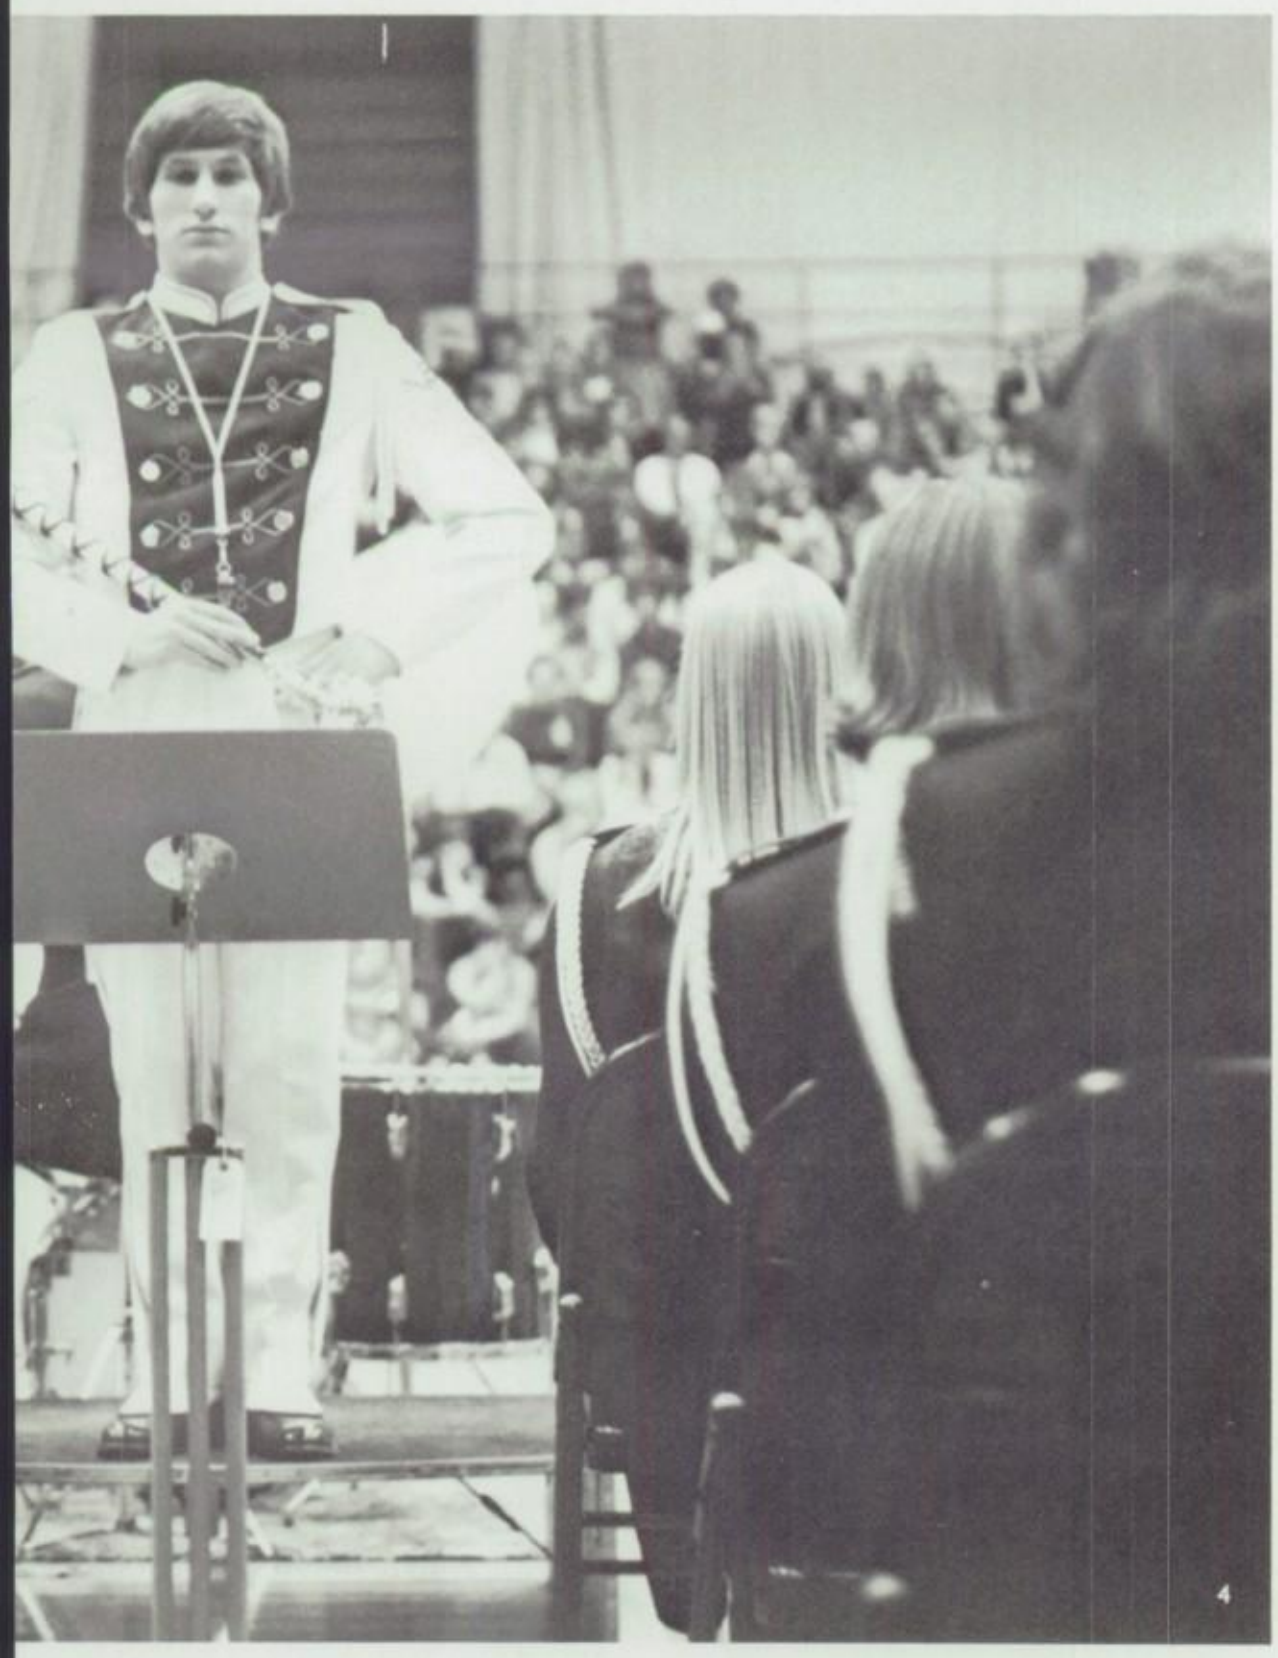
4. Drum-Major Brian Locker prepares to start the band.
5. The winning percussion section performing a classy solo session.

Sections of the band compete in Band-a-Rama



The exciting, sparkling movements of particular sections of the band competing against each other awed the spectators of the fourth annual Band-A-Rama on November 10.

The ever popular Bisonettes and Drill Team performed during halftime with dazzling routines to popular songs.

Student director Matt Comerford filled in for the absent director Robert Rogers. Mr. Rogers was an "interested spectator" and later commented that the band had improved vastly since summer.

Mr. Patberg judged the contest, and he chose the percussion section the winners. He said Anyone who has to lug those things around all marching season deserves some kind of award."

In addition to the first place award, awards were presented in such categories as most spaced out and heaviest sleeper.

Later, Mr. Rogers said, "I think we can look forward to a winning year with our Peter Nero Pops Concert and countless other activities."

Community sing-a-long highlights Yuletide Festival.

A sing-a-long and name change highlighted the annual Christmas program this year. Held on Dec. 19, Yuletide Festival, formerly named Vacation Vibrations, was performed by the Music Department.

The audience seemed enthusiastic about participating in the program. A total of seven groups performed. They included: Orchestra, Expressions, Freshman Chorus, Varsity Singers, New Generation, Handbell Ringers and Concert Choir.

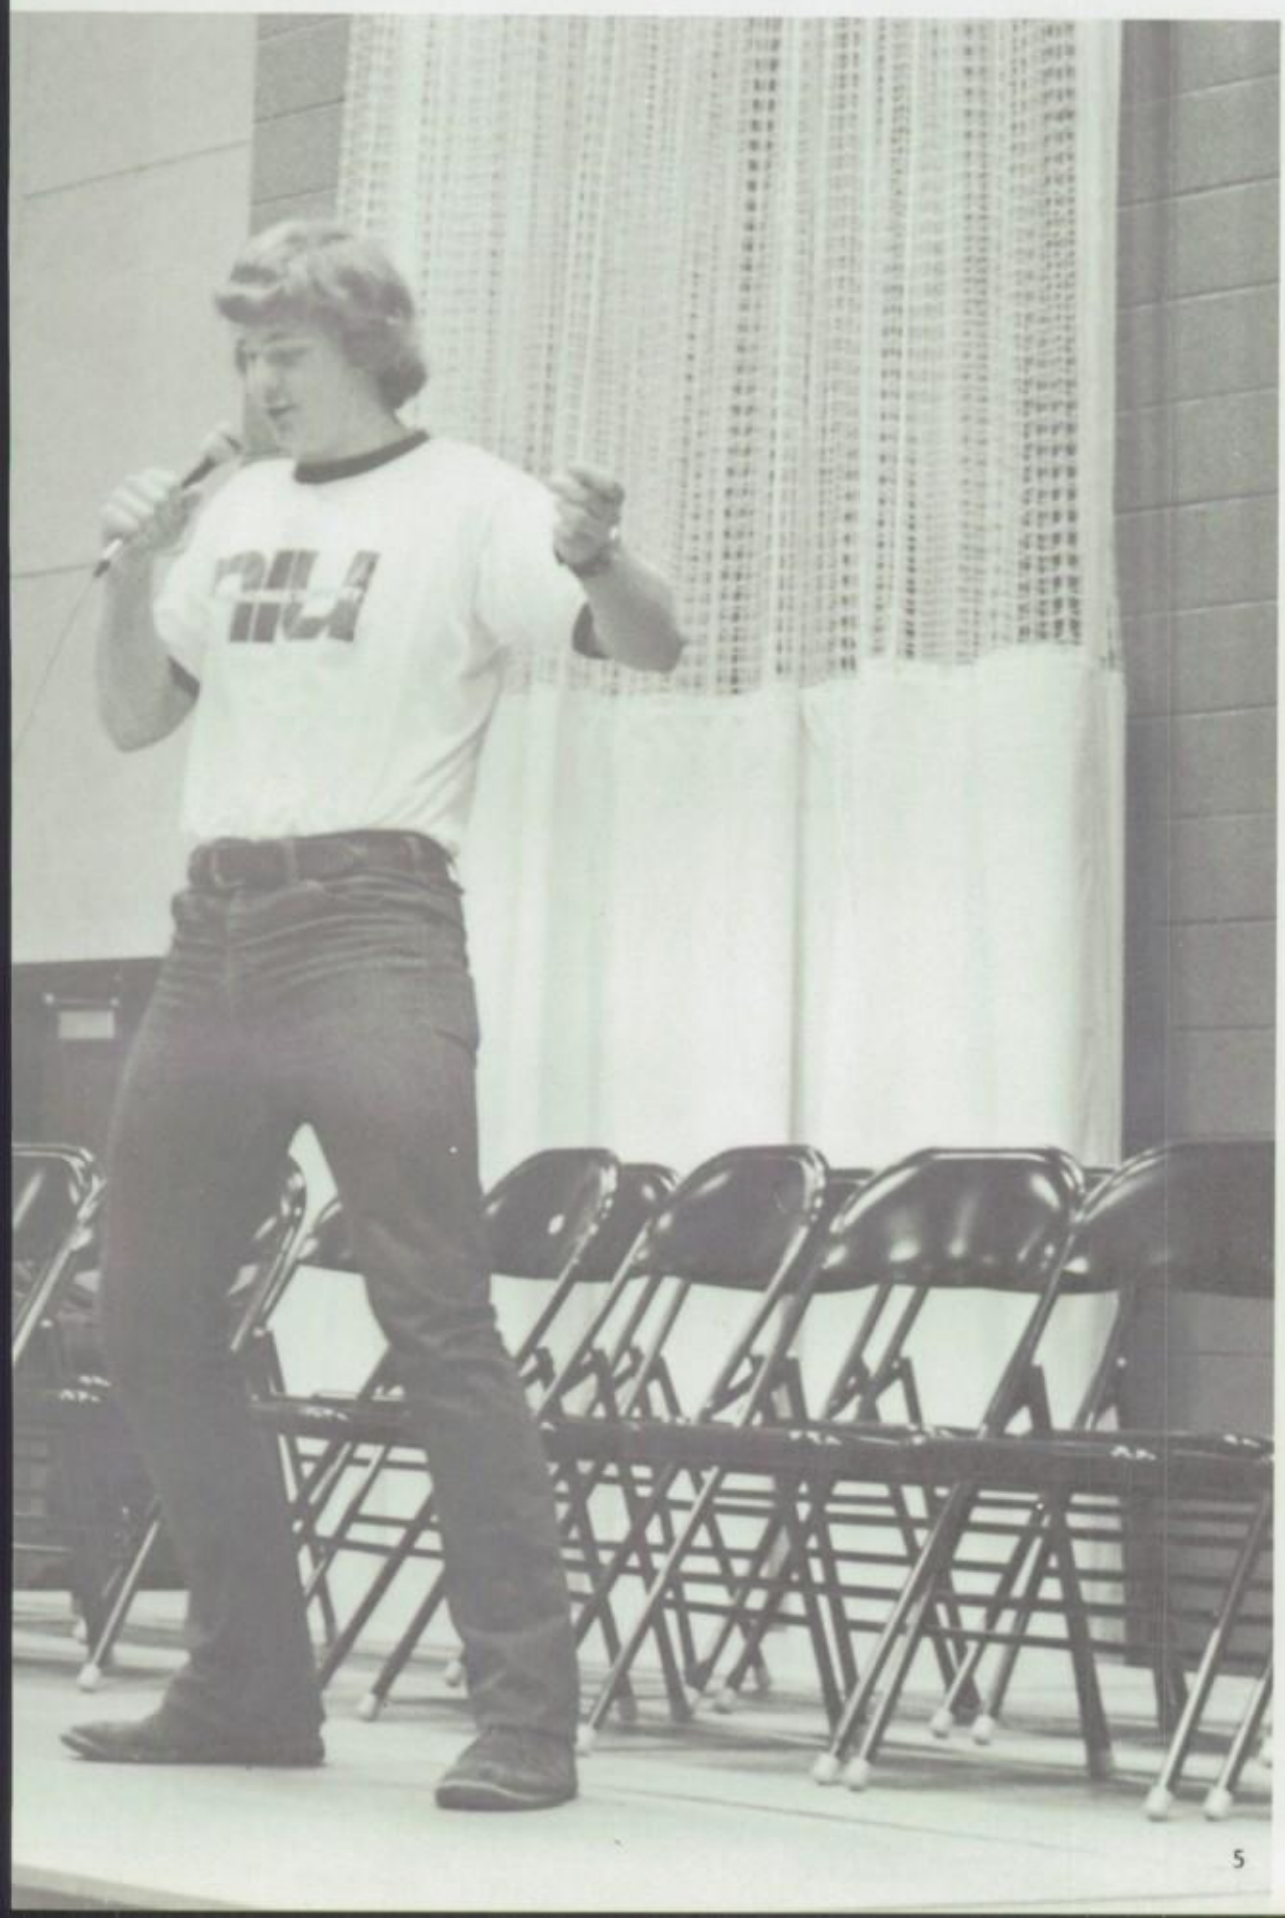
Two months of practice went into the production of the program, and the groups' hard work was evidenced by their superior performances.

The Orchestra and various choruses performed three holiday songs together with which the audience sang along. Miss McEachran, said, "For the first time the audience seemed to leave the theatre with the spirit of the holiday season."

1. Lifting their voices in a joyous Christmas song is the Concert Choir.
2. The Varsity Singers hum under the directions of Mr. White.
3. The New Generation take an old song and give it a new twist and style.
4. Leading the Concert Choir in their favorite Christmas song, Miss McEachran points out the exact tone she wants.
5. Miss McEachran accepts the audience's applause for the Varsity Choir's performance.

1. On your mark, get set, go! were the words to be heard by Jeff Jay, Rob Wilson, and Diane Kehrle as they compete to get on stage.
2. Cindy Larson and Fred Heesch are off into deep sleep.
3. Diane Kehrle tries to loosen her grip in vain as the other students watch.
4. Hypnotism is not dangerous according to Dr. Ross.
5. 'You Ain't Nothin But A Hound Dog' sings Fred Heesch, alias Elvis Presley.

Mysteries of hypnotism demonstrated by Dr. Ross



The mysteries of hypnotism were demonstrated for the student body as Dr. Ross returned to Buffalo Grove April 7.

Initially twenty seniors were selected and then hypnotized. Ten of these students that were under the deepest trance were then selected to remain on stage.

The actions and reactions of these hypnotized students made up the remainder of the program. The audience was amused as the students saw a movie that was initially very sad and then became pornographic. Dr. Ross then gave a pair of X-ray glasses that Tom Lindholm loved and Diane Kehrle refused to look through.

At one point Dr. Ross convinced all the girls that he was the most handsome man they had ever met. The boys, however, knew that he was no good and tried to warn the girls; when the boys spoke, they could only stutter.

Other funny incidents included a situation in which the students thought they were being poked by the person next to them. Another incident allowed students to interpret the speech of a moon-talking astronaut. The highpoint came as several rock groups and, of course, Elvis Presley sang for the audience.

'Seasons' provides showcase for sterling performances

"A Man For All Seasons," presented Dec. 16-17, was a stirring drama and showcased some of the finest performances the Buffalo Grove stage has witnessed.

The show traced the public and private life of Sir Thomas More, King Henry VIII's Lord Chancellor, during the turbulent years before the Reformation.

Time transitions were aided with Common Man Cathy Hodel acting as narrator.Speaking in a Cockney that was knife-cutting thick, she explained the historical background and acted as the servant of many of England's notables.

The production was staged on numerous platforms that allowed the change of scenes to be made with the minimum of movement. The casting was exquisite.

The performances of More, played by Fred Wolter, his wife and daughter, played by Debbie Rasmussen and Diane Nelson, were well-conceived and executed. Other performances complemented the efforts of actors, crews and production staff to provide a memorable show.

"This One's For You" . . .

Queen Diana Thompson

"This One's For You" proved to be an appropriate theme for Diana Thompson as she joyfully accepted the crown of Winter Ball Queen on February 12.

Like any major dance, the evening held special memories for all who attended. The girls on the court (Ellen Bremner, Lynda Schmid, Laura Smith, and Karen Snelson) will surely count it as one of their fondest memories.

To select the court, every activity in the school was asked to nominate a senior girl. Those girls with the most nominations were then seated on the court. Election of the queen was done by the seniors.

Decorations for the evening included floral centerpieces, streamers, and valentine hearts on the walls. To make the evening even more special, the courtyard was illuminated.

1. Dave Frederick and Lori Williams share a special Valentine moment.
2. Jane More announces the name of the 1977 Winter Ball Queen ... Diana Thompson.

5. Tzeitel (Sally Leadley) begs her father (Ted Smart) to allow her to marry a man of her own choosing — Motel, the tailor.

'Fiddler on the Roof' acts as catalyst for magic

The blending of many talents into a unified whole is more than an unusual thing — it's magic!

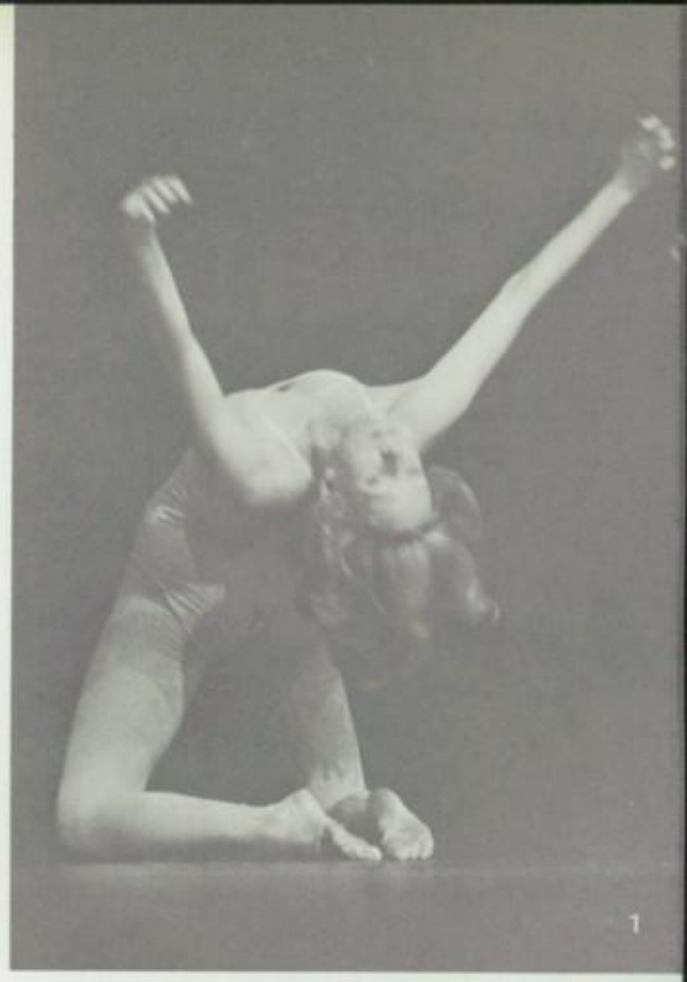
Magic was performed in the presentation of "Fiddler on the Roof" Feb. 24-26 as the efforts of dozens of actors, orchestra members, and stage crew hands combined to make a memorable show for the audiences that filled the theatre each night.

Credit for this sorcery must go to the production staff (director John Marquette, technical director Kathryn Schafer, choreographer Linda McEachran, and orchestra director Bruce Fowler). They were able to mold the students' personalities to a single end.

Ted Smart as Tevye, the bewildered father who seeks suitable husbands for his five daughters, was admirably cast as he danced, swaggered, and clowned on stage winning the audience's admiration. His wife Golde, played by Chris Farrell, has definite ideas about the selection of her sons-in-law and makes her ideas understood. They are able to survive it all, even with the ever-present threat of czarist pogroms.

The staging was set before cleverly constructed sets that opened and revolved to reveal the interiors of the town's buildings.

The packed houses each night attested to the fine quality of the production — and the magic that created it.



Newspaper format unifies 'Dancing Times' performance

A newspaper format unified the many diverse dances of this year's Orchesis show, "The Dancing Times." Under the direction of Mrs. Beauprie, the dances performed were based on newspaper features such as, weather reports, theatre listings, or ecology articles. The show was performed March 31-April 2.

Most of the dances performed were choreographed by the students themselves. Mrs. Beauprie choreographed only the opening and finale of the show. The show featured a variety of dance types including: tap, ballet, toe, jazz, and modern dance styles.

Transitions between the numbers were made by Cathy Hodel who would shout out titles of major stories in the paper which would then be performed in dance.

The show was also enhanced by special effects. For example, a Charlie Chaplin film was projected on a large screen behind the dancers to tie in with the Chaplin-like dance performed. In addition, Diane Kerhle and Joy Thorbjorn sang and played "Eagle and the Hawk" as the dancers performed.

Nero concert shows off Bison band professionalism.

An outstanding performance of pianist Peter Nero accompanied by the Buffalo Grove High School Band was enjoyed by the audience that packed the gym on March 12. The concert was the culmination of a great deal of work on the band's part as they practiced eight weeks for the performance. "The standards of the performance was extremely high; they exceeded last year's standards," said band director Robert L. Rogers.

Nero was very pleased with the band's performance and told them that many professional orchestras with which he worked did not come up to the band's high quality of performance. The band responded to his praise with a loud cheer.

Band member John Hopkins said, "Working with Nero was a real blast. Most of the work we do in band is very serious. Working with Nero was fun, and yet we got things done." Nero practiced with the band twice before the concert.

Outstanding numbers performed included: selections from "The Wiz," "Tara's Theme," the prologue from "West Side Story," and "The Summer of '42."

1. Bob Neal is in deep concentration during the performance.
2. Great amounts of practice is the key to great performances as Mr. Nero shows.

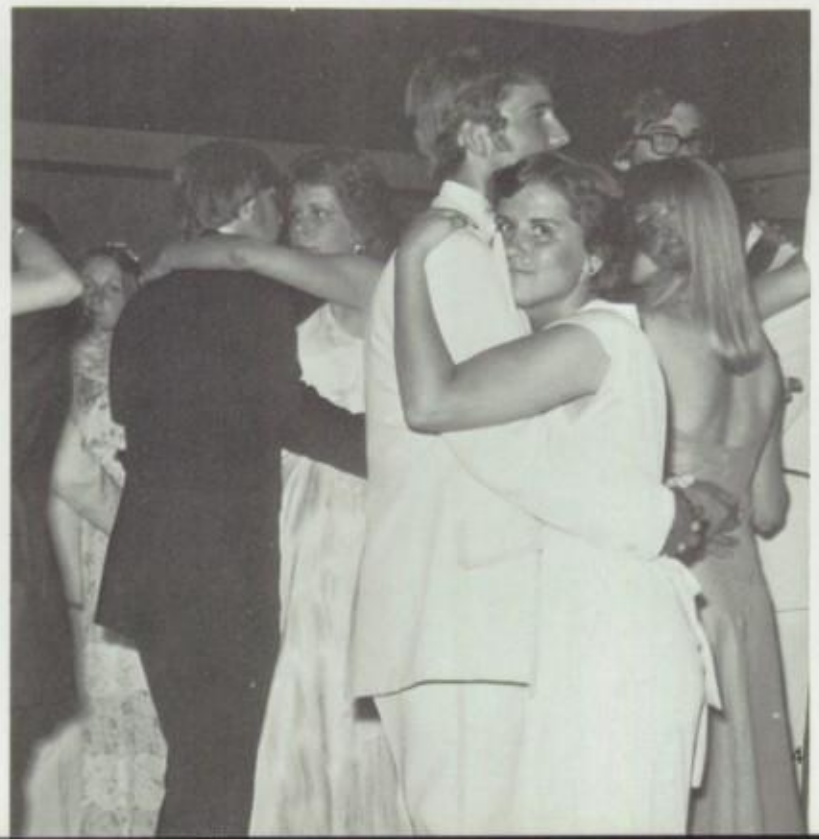
2. Queen of the prom Sue Chamberlain and her escort, Steve Tandet pose for a portrait.
3. Squeals of excitement greet the announcement of the queen.
4. The music of Penny Royale provides a romantic mood for the dance.
5. PROM COURT: Laura Smith, Greg Thompson, Karen Snelson, Al Cymbal, Sue Chamberlain, Steve Tandet, Denise Bartoli, Don Jay, Liz LaPlante, Tim Pfeiffer.



Memories worth a thousand words are painted at prom

"If A Picture Paints A Thousand Words" set the theme for the 1977 prom held May 27. Breaking from the tradition of merely sponsoring a dance, the Junior class provided a sit-down dinner in the price of the ticket.

Held at Allgauer's Fireside Restaurant in Northbrook, the prom was so large that it took up four banquet rooms at the restaurant.

Students who attended entered the prom under a flowered archway and were greeted with a scene of simple fresh flowers that decorated the tables and massive chandeliers that lighted the rooms. The scene was completed with the music of Penny Royale.

The highlight of the evening was the coronation of Sue Chamberlain as prom queen. She was attended by her court: Denise Bartoli, Laura Smith, Liz LaPlante, and Karen Snelson.

The prom, in short, painted thousands of memories for the students who attended.

Accents enhance 'Corn'

Carefully wrought Welsch accents and a magnificent box set enhanced the performances of "The Corn is Green" May 20 and 21.

The production marked director Ms. Kathryn Schafer's second time out as a director at Buffalo Grove. The set was executed by Messrs. John Marquette and Keith Mann.

The play concerns an English spinster, Miss Moffat (Deb Rasmussen) who sets up a school for the children of a Welsh village.

Despite opposition from the townspeople and their squire (Ted Smart), she has great success with the school thanks in part to two friends (Joy Thorbjornsen and John Muenning).

Miss Moffat's greatest success is realized in her protege Morgan Evans (Jim Paugels). He wins a scholarship to Oxford University despite the problems caused by the voluptious Bessie Watty (Diane Nelson).

Besides its theme, the play allowed for an interesting interplay of three dialects: Welsh, Cockney, and Oxford English. The success with which the actors brought these dialects across amazed the audience and insured the show's success.

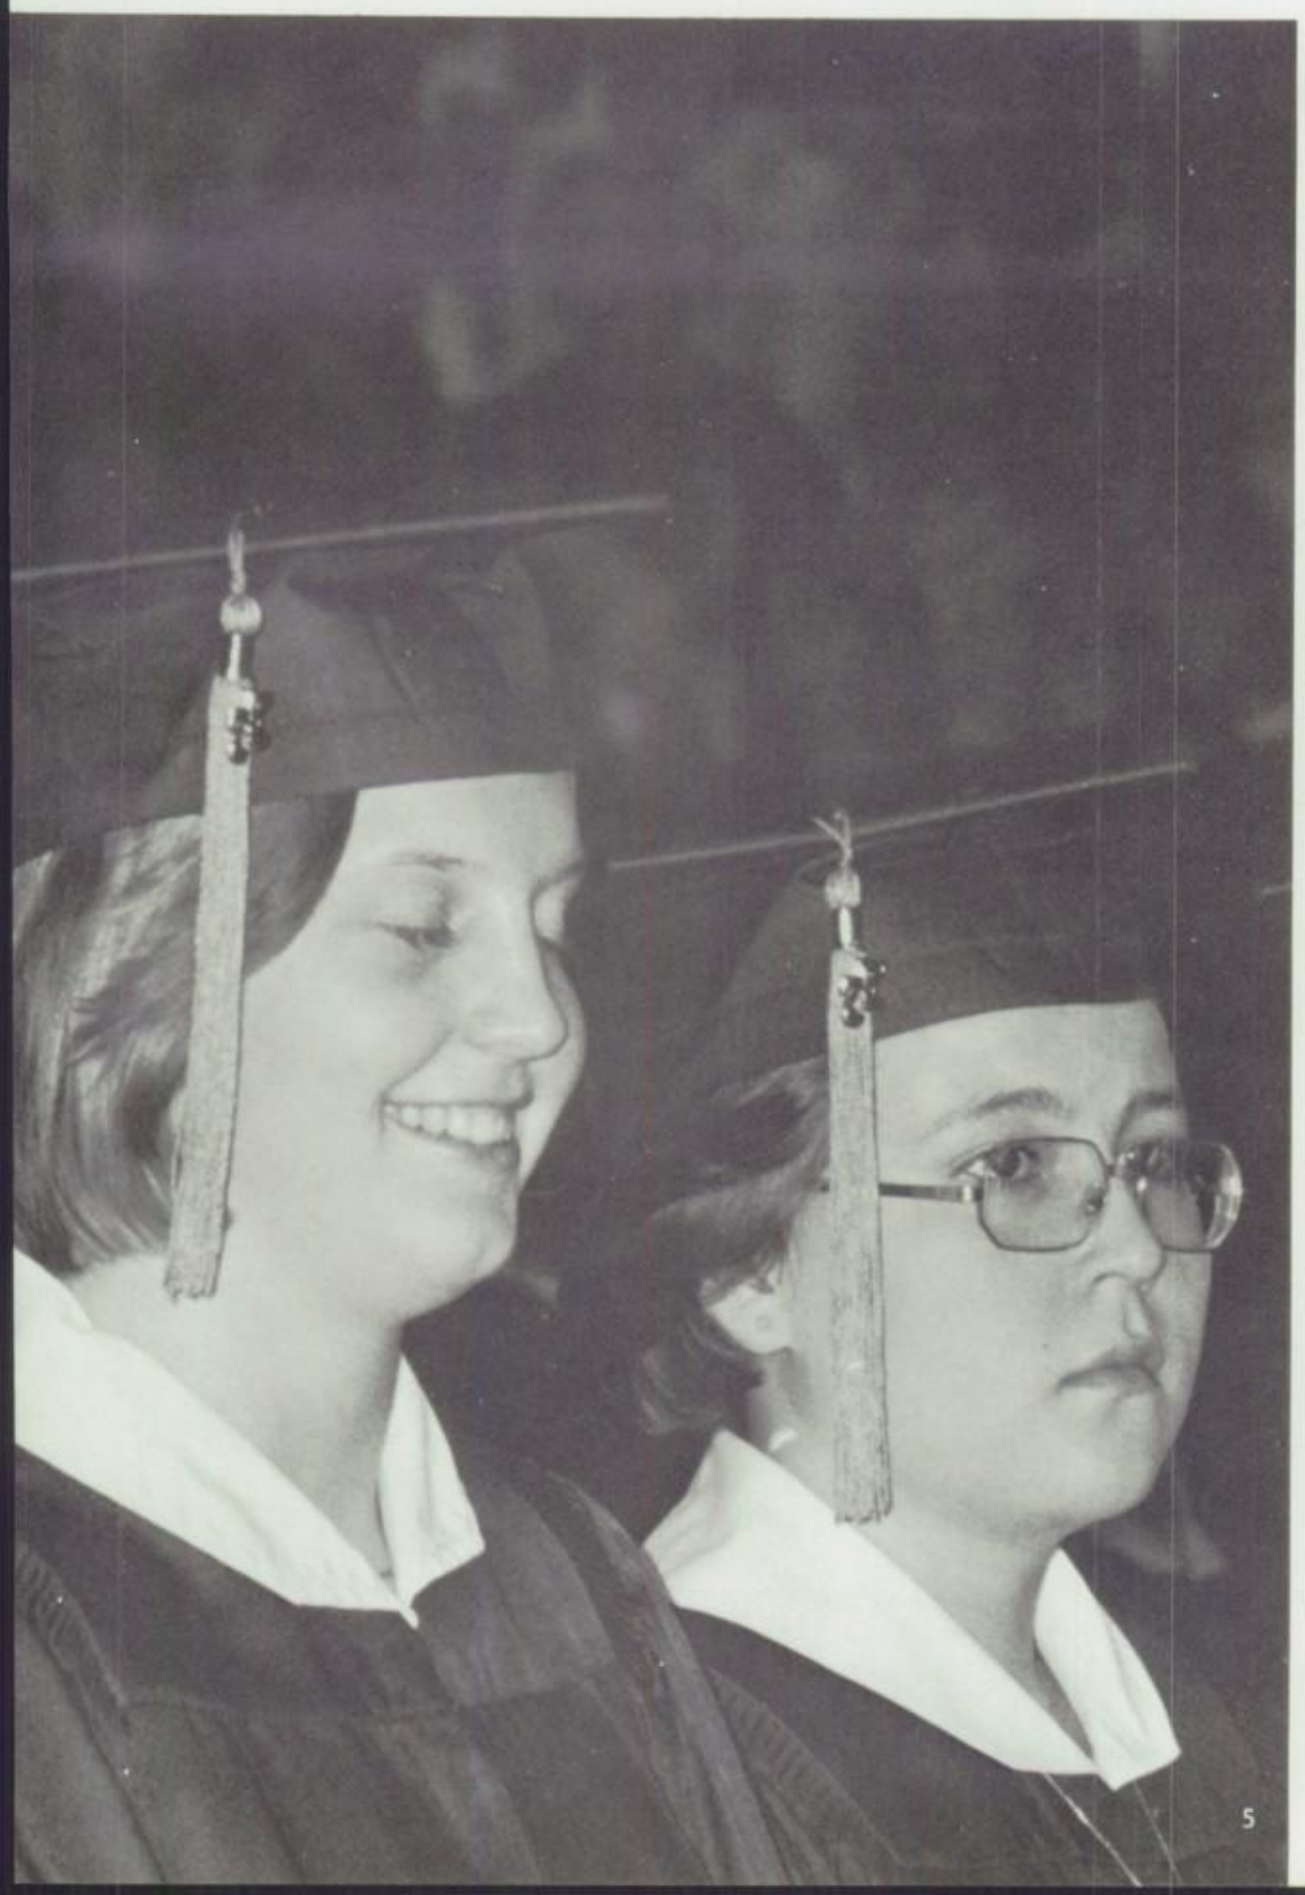
2. Concert choir members sing the Alma Mater.
3. Expectant graduates listen to the choir's singing.
4. Senior Joy Thorbjornen sings under the school banner.
5. Reflection and expectation are written on the faces of these three graduates

First four-year class graduates June 7



The first senior class to attend all four years at Buffalo Grove, the Class of 1977, graduated June 7.

Between the playing of "Pomp and Circumstance" and the recessional the graduates were struck by many things — primarily their memories, of four years at Buffalo Grove.

To help them relive these memories they heard speeches by Jane More, Cathy Amundsen, Sue Lesch and Chris Ryan. These speeches recapped their experiences and accomplishments and helped the graduates gain perspective on their education and their future. Also presented was Joy Thorbjornsen who sang "If We Meet Some Day". The audience responded to her efforts with a prolonged applause.

Highlighting the ceremonies was the concert choir singing the "Buffalo Grove Alma Mater" and the senior class song; Seals and Crofts' "We May Never Pass This Way Again."

Appropriate as that song may have been, part of these graduates — the mark they have left on this school — will always be here to remind future students of their being here.

Five Bison players make all conference

Outstanding coaching, 72 talented young atheletes, and enthusiastic boosters together helped bring us several varsity football victories this year.

Five Bison players made the all-conference team. They were: Tim Dunn, Scott Groot, Fred Heesch, John MacIsaac, and Ben Orcutt.

Coach Blaney and many players felt that the Homecoming game was the best. Senior Mike Ledna remarked, "Homecoming game was great; coming back for a victory in the second half is always exciting."

The victories can be attributed to the strenuous physical and mental preparation the team endured. Two and a half hours of practice, flexibility and agility drills, and psyching-up can take its toll — in wins, that is.

1. Kelly Brennen and Craig Pitts in action.
2. Scott Groot rests, as third quarter pressure builds.
3. Our strong Bison defense.
4. These Bison players have little time to collect splinters for they will be on the field and in the action shortly.
5. TA-DA! . . . . . and the Bison are on the field ready for a Homecoming victory.
6. Mark Teutsch (54), Scott Groot (10), and Ben Orcutt (22) prepare for the HIKE!
7. Coach Blaney introduces a new play to his team.
8. A herd of Bison stampede the opposition.

Some noticeable improvement was seen in Kathy Furlong's diving skills. Cindy Sammons also improved from last year to this year. Sharon Orfanedes became a much more versatile swimmer.

The work-outs this year were run against the clock to help the girls swim faster. Coach Maxson said that next year the team should do pretty well, because it will not have lost any seniors and will have three super divers.

Golfers lose conference place fifth downstate

At the start of the season, the varsity team had the goal of winning conference . . . instead, it placed fifth in state.

After the downfall at conference, the team set its goal even higher; it concentrated on the next step. "Conference was a big let down, so we had to get ourselves together for state tournaments," said Bob Hoffman.

The team's trip to the downstate tourney was aided with Bob Hoffman placing medalist at districts and Mike Marshall placing second at sectionals. "We couldn't believe we won sectionals," said Coach Van Iten. "We only wanted to place."

In additon to the team's sucessful results, Rich Peterson and Mike Marshall were named "All Conference" golfers; Mike Marshall, Bob Hoffman, and Dan Krolack were named "All Area" golfers.

The frosh-soph team has had little previous experience in competion, and Coach Dineen hoped to play them as much as possible. "I mixed our top two or three sophomores with three or four different freshmen each meet, so everyone got match experience."

The team's scores did improve, however, and Coach Dineen is anxious to start next season with returning players.

Girls' tennis has best season yet, takes third place in conference

Superb coaching and the players' hard work helped make this the most successful season so far for the varsity tennis team. It placed third in conference with a 9-3 record.

Coach Pruitt was "very pleased" with the team's performance and the outcome of the season. Pruitt said, "I'm extremely proud of how we finished considering this is only our fourth year."

The team played in the conference meet coming up with a thrid place finish; it also went on to district. Sophomore Lisa Smart finished first in conference singles, undefeated.

"The team was placed in the Glenbrook North District which is considered to be the strongest district in the state. The competition proved to be tough, and none of our players were able to qualify for state," said Coach Pruitt.

A new member of the tennis team this year was the ball machine. Besides participating in the drills, the machine often attacked its teammates. Many players were beaned by it, and Coach Pruitt was once pelted with five balls immediately after turning it on.

The junior varsity team, under Coach Penstone, finished seventh at the end of the season with a 6-6 record. Coach Penstone added that the playing of the junior varsity team has greatly improved from the beginning to the end of the season. She especially saw improvement in the players' serves and backhands.

Cross Country places tenth in conference as injuries plague team

The cross country team, under Head Coach DeRosa and Assistant Coach Hoffman, placed tenth in the conference.

The team also finished in the top half of one of the largest meets in the country, the Crete-Monee, where 65 teams competed.

Injuries plagued the team this year. However, an outstanding performance was given by Joe Schmidt who improved his placement in conference from eighteenth last year to third this year.

Schmidt also placed sixth in the district meet to qualify for the state sectional.

"A new dimension has been added to cross country this year as some members of the band played at the home meets," said Coach DeRosa. "The Bison fight song at the finish line was an inspiration to the team."

"The girls' absence this season was really noticed," said Coach DeRosa. "I hope the girls will have a team next year."

Soccer finishes first season

This was a long first season for Buffalo Grove's newly instituted soccer team. In soccer, endurance is the key, and even daily practices proved to be not quite enough to win games.

Playing against more experienced teams, the varsity finished the season with a 0-13 record. However, the record doesn't tell the whole story; several games were close and much improvement was evident. For instance, the first time the Bison took Another example was the Arlington Game, highlighted by dazzling performances by Pat Staudt and Simon Cordery. It was the closest and most impressive battle of the season.

In this rapidly growing spectator sport, the soccer team gave 150% effort every time they came on the field. Mike Gorey summed up the season by saying, "It was a lot of fun, but it would've been a lot nicer to win." The frosh-soph team had a more impressive season, compiling a 5-7-2 record. The team racked up a long list of impressive accomplishments. Among these were breaking the area winning streak with 23 games, winning the Niles West Tournament, winning the prestigious Rockford Christmas Tournament, being the undefeated North Division Champions, winning the Mid-

"The team reached every goal except one," said Grady. That goal was to compete in the state finals. The deathblow to the goal came when the Bison lost to the New Trier West Cowboys 66-56 March 11.

Johanson, Kelly Eberle lead to 17-4 record

The sophomore basketball team had an exceptionally good year with a 17-4 record. Contributing to this year's record were high scorers: Bryan Johanson, Mike Kelley, and Ken Eberle.

Another highlight of the season was winning the Christmas Holiday Tournament at Elk Grove December 27-29. "We beat Main South, who was undefeated, and Elk Grove, who had only lost once," said Coach Van Iten. "I thought we had a successful season in which we improved with each game," said Bryan Johanson.

This is Coach Van Iten's last year with the sophomore basketball team. He has had great success as a coach. This year's sophomore team placed first in conference and won more games than any other sophomore team in the history of the school.

The freshman A basketball team proved to be fierce competitors; they placed first in conference with a 11-5 record. The freshmen beat Fremd with a 70-50 score while one of the team's best players was missing. They also won a double overtime game against Wheeling with a final score of 56-52.

The freshman A team entered the Proviso East Tournament. Coach Truelsen said, "The tournament games were good. We were beat twice, but they were very close games."

The freshman B team placed second in conference after attaining a season record of 7-6. They also won many close games. Coach Rubly said, "We beat Hersey by three points which gave them their first loss of the year."

Wrestlers end season second in conference

This year was the "most exciting year in the history of Buffalo Grove wrestling," according to Coach Dennis Riccio. The varsity team finished second in conference and sent three members to the state meet.

Kirt Lewis placed fourth in the state meet held at the University of Illinois Feb. 25 and 26. Greg Thomson and Chris Rugg also went to the state meet, but they were disqualified after their first round.

The team achieved a first in the district meet held at Buffalo Grove Feb. 12 and 13 and sectionals held at Barrington Feb. 18 and 19.

These accomplishments were achieved despite injuries and illnesses among various players. Tim Foley dislocated his shoulder twice this year, the second time during the districts. This put him out for the rest of the season. Also, Tim Dunn suffered a neck injury during the Christmas season. Broken blood vessels in the nose prevented Dave Martin from finishing the season. Coach Riccio said, "Considering all the problems we had with injuries and illnesses we have done just as well as we were capable."

Hockey improves vastly for good season

"They've really improved. It's incredible," said hockey sponsor Arlene Herring. These words were tinged with subtle excitement. And it is true. The hockey squad had a startling season record of fourteen wins, eight losses, and three ties.

The major achievement this season was tieing the 1975-76 State Champion Notre Dame 6-6 on March 10. This was a great accomplishment for a young club.

The record is also remarkable when considering that the team never practiced together. As a club, the Hockey Club is not school funded. Each member had to pay $100 or more to participate. These costs could not cover the additional ice time needed to practice as a team. The only practice they got was during games.

The captain of the team, Brian Locker, said that he was amazed at the way the group performed despite the fact that they could not practice as a team.

Four players of the team were placed on the Far North Divison All-Star Team. They were Bob Scott, Frank Flavin, Mark Emerson and Mike Mueller. An honorable mention went to Bill Felton.

Miss Herring said, "I'm glad to see how much they have improved, and I hope all of them will be back again for another season."

Gymnastics has winning season as Deal, Battaglia, Jones go to state

"I expected a winning season," said Coach Mazur. "The team was a little disappointed we didn't win conference, but we bounced back and won sectionals."

The team this year did remarkably well. Through most of the season the varsity team was rated among the top five in the state The team achieved a second place in conference, a first place in the Mundelein districts, and a first place in the sectionals. The sectional win was accomplished by defeating Wheeling who had already beaten B.G. in two previous meets. Buffalo Grove placed fifth in state competition held at Prospect High School March 4 and 5. Dewey Deal, Lee Battaglia, and Evan Jones qualified for the finals. Deal placed first on parallel bars with an 8.75, and Battaglia tied for second with a score of 8.60. Battaglia also recieved a second on the high bar with a score of 8.90. Evan Jones recieved a ninth on the trampoline.

"The team had the potential of any other team in state competition because, for example, we missed third place by seven tenths of a point," Coach Mazur said.

The sophomore team had a substantial season ending with a 12-3 record.

Swimmers fulfill goal; send two downstate.

"This year we had two goals as a team. The first was to finish in the top half of the conference (which we did not achieve). The second was to have someone score in state competition," said Coach Harrington.

Two swimmers placed in three events in state competition held University of Illinois in Urbana. Al Cymbal placed sixth in diving. Mike Yasky placed fourteenth in butterfly and sixteenth in backstroke.

The team was particulary strong in backstroke this year thanks to the efforts of Mark Rusche, Kurtis Conrad, and Craig Titus. The team ended it's season with a 3-6 record. "On some meets we won just because we were more excited," said Coach Harrington.

Two individual records were set this year. Mark Rusche set a team record of 109 points in a season. Mike Yasky totaled 502 points in his four-year career; this is the highest number of points any swimmer has achieved in the history of the school.

1. Struggling toward home Dave Pickle finishes first in the freestyle event.

V-ball team finishes second in conference

The volleyball team had an extremely successful season. They won the North Division title, placed second in conference and won districts. This was the furthest that any girls' team has gone in competition in the history of the school.

Coach Von Gerichten was very proud of the team and its accomplishments. Their coorperation and team work was remarkable; no one person sought personal glory.

The team's winning record must be attributed to the great spiking ability of Sherri Blum and Betsy Messina. In addition, Joyce Gallagher's daring serve and spike helped bring in victories. Five of the nine girls on the team were seniors, and their loss will be felt on next year's team.

Teamwork leads girls to 13-5 season record

"Teamwork" is the one word that describes the success of this year's twelve-girl varsity basketball squad.

Starting the season with an overtime victory against Palatine, the girls began improving in each successive encounter. After two straight losses, one to Fremd the other to Wheeling, they came back strong, winning eight of nine games, thus knocking Wheeling out of first place.

The Bison then finished the season with a 13-5 record, making them eligible to play in the regional competition.

The junior-varsity team had a good season showing great promise for the future of girls' basketball here. Youth is the key to next year. Next season should be the career accumulation of all area scoring leader Joyce Gallagher and leading rebounder Bev Torain.

Badminton team finishes twelfth

Loss of many of its better players brought the girls' badminton team down from sixth place last year to twelfth this year. The team's inexperience, and not its desire, was the reason for its disappointing record.

The encouragement of Sue Albrecht and Barb Underwood spurred the girls to try their best against more experienced teams. The team owes these two players a debt of gratitude.

Freshman Dorothy Pasch was the team's most improved player. Her effort was an inspiration to the team.

Hopefully with the experience gained this year and the continued encouragment of various team members, the girls' badminton team will be able to raise its conference record.

Individual, team work leads to 5-7 season.

Individual and team accomplishments gave the girls' gymnastics team something to be proud of this year.

Their season's record of 5-7 was an improvement over last year's; their sixth place finish in the Mid-Suburban League conference meant that they had reached their goal of having a .500 season.

Although gymnastics is an individual sport, it is important that all participants are willing to help and learn from one another. Coach Maxson felt that this spirit of cooperation was achieved by the team and aided their successes.

One of the outstanding gymnasts who competed regularly was senior Linda Unthank, whose talents in the floor exercise event qualified her for state competition, where she placed fifteenth. Others who excelled were Liz LaPlante, Carrie Ferris, Katie Kerr, and Lisa Crosland.

Gymnastics is growing in popularity at the high school level, so continued improvement can be expected in the future.

Varsity team takes division championship

Winning the North Division championship was the greatest achievement of this year's varsity softball team. When they met the South Division champions, Prospect High School, they lost 1-3 despite their best efforts. Their sportsmanship and skill was seen not only in the close score, but in the fact that they only created two errors during the game.

Another highlight of the year was winning the subregional at Stevenson and getting to the regional finals at Lake Forest. At the regionals, they were defeated by Deerfield, but only after an exciting nine innings.

Sharon Bouchard, Sherri Blum, and Joyce Gallagher made all conference. Coach VonGerichten said that their goals this year were to "do better than last year and win the North Division," and they accomplished both. The varsity team ended the season with a final record of 8-5.

Members of this year's team include: Jolene Anderson, Nora Bardi, Sherri Blum, Sharon Bouchard, Kathy Clements, Joyce Gallagher, Wynn King, and Jill LeMaster. Also, Kelly Meekma, Gail O'Conner, Carol Schlichting, Kathy Specht, Debbie Underwood, and Terri Rand.

The junior-varsity softball team also had a winning season with a record of 4-2. The only teams to defeat them were Prospect and Wheeling. Members of the J-V team include: Michelle Adrian, Joann Anderson, Mary Bang, Karen DiCicco, Sherry Duran, Jamee Freund, Merry Funk, and Patty Green. Also, Karen Grudzien, Jenny Holz, Jan Jakacki, Sherry Kilian, Jackie Less, Holly Michaelson, and Sue Wilde.

MSL Conference champs

The varsity baseball team had two major goals this year: to win the conference championship and to go down state. The first of these goals was realized; the second was not.

The conference championship was sewed up when the team ended its season with a 12-5 conference record. Their overall record was 14-7.

The road to the conference championship was filled with peril. When the Bison met Wheeling May 25, both teams were evenly matched with the same win-loss records of 12-5. Despite the similarity in their abilities, the Bison shut out

The Bison met South Division Champions Prospect High School May 31. Coach Van Iten said the Prospect game "was the most exciting of the season".

Despite a long record of wins, the team's hopes of going downstate were squashed when they were shut out by Arlington in the third day of regional playoffs on May 9.

Coach Van Iten of the varsity team felt that the entire team played extremely well. He also cited Phil Czosnyka as the team's most valuable player.

Tennis teams place sixth in conference

The varsity tennis team ended its season with a 5 - 10 overall record, and a 5-7 conference record which placed them sixth in the conference.

The outstanding players that led the Bison were freshman Ed Harvey, junior Bill Libit, and seniors Bill Christisen. Harvey was the number ne singles player and had an excellent record of 12-14; Christisen and Kane were the top doubles team and won championships at the Bison, Maine North, and Fenton Invitationals. Christisen was also a semi-finalist in a singles play at the Conference Tourney. Junior Bill Libit won the singles Bison Invitational and placed second at the Maine North Invitational.

Two hours of daily drills six days a week, Coach Biere's individual help, and team dedication aided in the team's improvement over the previous year.

The frosh-soph team also ended up 6th in conference with a 6-9 overall record and a 6-6 conference record. The goal to finish in the top half of the conference was accomplished.

Freshman Greg Cazel and Sophomore Marty Zetner got to the semi-finals of the conference meet.

Color Guard receives superior rating; Jazz Band develops style.

This year Color Guard has done many performances both with the band and alone. Jazz Band has taken the year to improve the styles and performances of its members.

Color Guard got off to an excellent start this year with their outstanding performance with the band at the Chicagoland Marching Band Festival were they received a superior rating. Along with their many performances with the band, Color Guard has presented the colors at all home basketball games. With the excitement of performing and the feeling of a job well done, the girls will admit that hard work never fails.

This year the Jazz Band improved its skills and interpretation of jazz by sight-reading through different styles of jazz and working on individual techniques. Club sponsor Robert L. Rogers said, "Jazz affords the opportunity for the student to extend the possibilities of using textures, both soft and violent, in various styles of music the band plays."

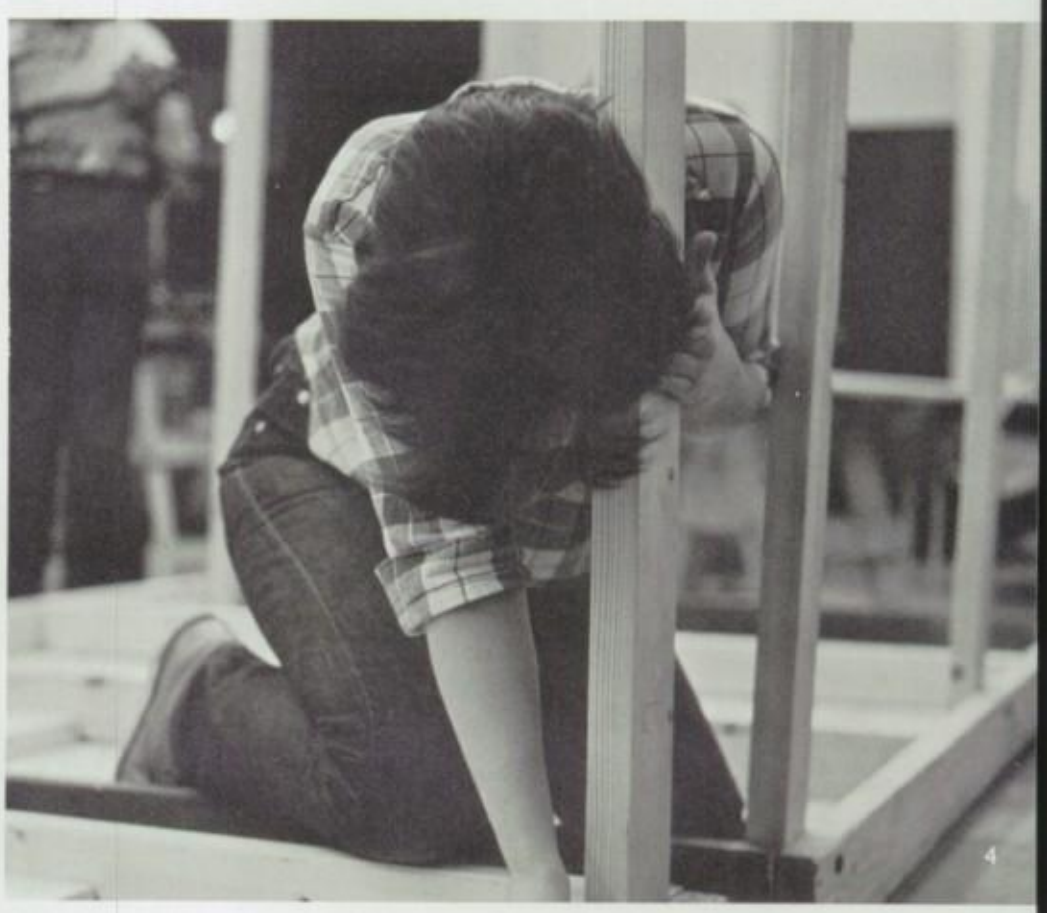
First place awards were taken by Dianne Kehrle in original comedey and Scott Olson in extemporaneous speaking. A second place award was received by Mary Herrmann for prose reading and a third place in radio speaking was won by Fred Wolter.

The freshmen are doing very well this year. Mrs. Rosenbaum said, "Michelle Kerr won a trophy at Hoffman Estates, which is very rare for a freshman." The Individual Events team won a total of ten trophies this year.



Stage crew studies varied topics; NFL adds new members

Both stage crew and National Forensic League have had active years. National Forensic League helped its members achieve new, higher goals in their speaking careers. Stage crew learned about renaissance architecture and Judaism.

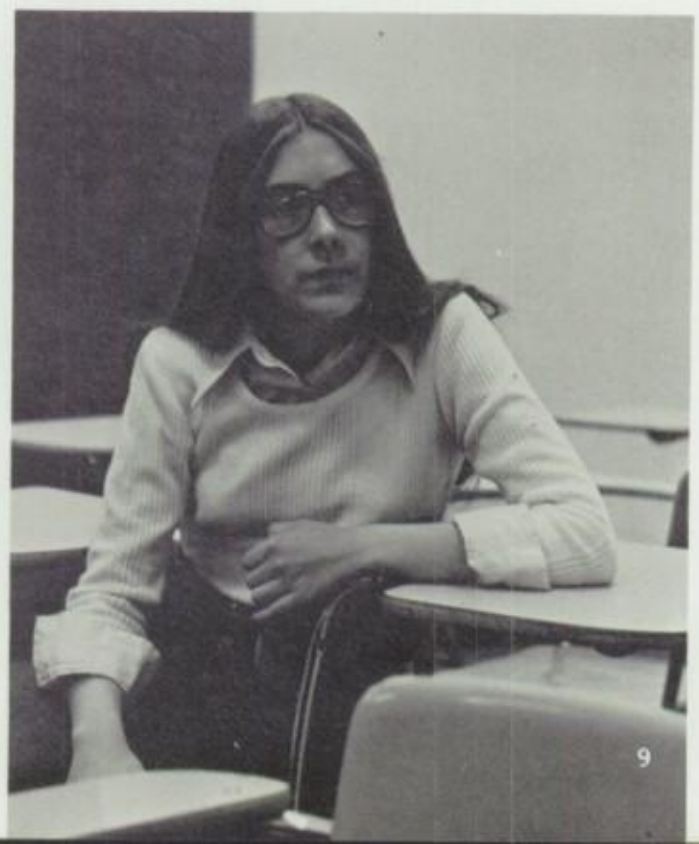
Stage crew members don't simply shift sets on and off the stage. They are involved with construction, publicity, and makeup.

Technical director Ms. Kate Schafer, designs the sets and works with makeup. Ms. Schafer and her crews studied renaissance history and British architecture for "Man for all Seasons" and Jewish heritage for "Fiddler on the Roof."

National Forensic League is a national honorary speech activity association. It draws its members primarily from debate and individual events teams.

"National Forensic League is a place for achievement," Mr. Darwin Peterson said. "Success isn't wins and losses, but achievement."

This year several new members joined after getting sufficient points for memberships.



1. Ms. Schafer shows her crew a construction technique.
2. Bob Dallstream finds it takes great time and effort to be successful in National Forensic League.

Publications: a lot of work, improvement!

Three publications have shown determination and steady improvement this year.

After receiving a first class NSPA rating in 1976, the CHARGER staff has been working towards an "All American" award for the 1976-77 school year.

An editorial board, an office, and increased student contributions are all improvements which OPUS has enjoyed during 1976-77. The literary magazine has also been able to increase its number of issues to seven per year.

In order to facilitate more complete coverage of the entire school year, STAMPEDE '77 is being distributed in the fall. A signature booklet is being sold so that the book can be autographed in the spring.

Females enter varsity club for first time in school history; other societies increase in size.

Entrance by female students into the previously all male Varsity Club this year highlighted the activities of Buffalo Grove's honor societies.

"The girls definitely deserve to be a part of the club," said sponsor Mr. Erfort. "No favoritism is given to the girls. They will be helping out with the normal tasks of the Varsity Club. I have noticed no friction from the guys this year regarding the girls joining," said Erfort.

Other honor societies include Quill and Scroll, Modern Music Masters, and National Honor Society.

Quill and Scroll is new to Buffalo Grove this year. It honors students involved in any one form of the three forms of journalism: the CHARGER newspaper, the STAMPEDE yearbook, and the OPUS literary magazine.

Modern Music Masters is an organization honoring the students involved in the performing music organizations: Band, Choir, and Orchestra. Tri-M has sponsored various concerts, hosted a Tri-M Jamboree and various other activities.

National Honor Society is an organization honoring students with consistantly high achievements in academics.

I.F.C., Community Resources actively involve students

The International Friendship Club and the Community Resource Program helped students discover other cultures and diverse career opportunities this year.

The International Friendship Club is associated with the American Field Service and is responsible for bringing exchange students to Buffalo Grove. This year the club sponsored three exchange students: Edmuthe Rohrle from Gelsingon, Germany, Mette Henricksen from Bornholm, Denmark, and Luis Rabon from Bogota, Colombia.

The Community Resources program enjoyed increased enrollment this year. The forty students participating were offered programs to help them decide on career choices from a wide-range of vocations. Among the positions filled by Buffalo Grove students were fire fighting, medical reception, and teaching of grammar school students. The program is particularly worthwhile because it helps the community industry as well as the students participating.

Federal cuts threaten end of NJROTC: aids assist school.

Dwindling enrollment and federal budgetary cuts may have delt a deathblow to NJROTC at Buffalo Grove. Enrollment in the corps class has been decreasing in the past few years; active recruitment by Capt. Lorentson, however, seems to have curbed this decline, and enrollment is expected to be up.

administration has been actively seeking "unnecessary" programs that can be pared from the federal budget and has been eyeing the NJROTC program as a likely victim.

Radio Club goes on fox hunts; M-S views student projects

The Amatuer Radio Club was formed this year. The club allows people interested in working with amateur radios an opportunity to obtain their licenses by test.

Members of the club participate in fox hunts and ham fests. A fox hunt is held by having one group hide a radio in a hiding place (be it a sewer, a rabbit hole, or an overpass) and wait while the other groups try to find it by signals.

If no one is able to find the group's "fox," that group maintains its "fox" for the next hunt. If a group discovers the "fox" by the time the hunt is over in four hours, they then get to hide the "fox" the next hunt.

When the "fox" is found, that group is rewarded with the foxhole, which often contains money. Teams from Buffalo Grove's Amateur Radio Club compete with teams from other schools in these hunts. Club members also attend numerous ham fests (electronic equipment fleamarkets) held at county fairgrounds.

The Math-Science Club members have engaged in many activities during their meetings. The club's purpose is to help students share knowledge about their scientific interests. Each member is asked to explain a science project or give a demonstration, at least once a year.

Marcus Hall presented a program on computer programming. Scott Johnson and Brian Yagoda explained the uses of explosives, and Richard Lecropane talked on the laser beam.

Language clubs have diverse activities

Both the French Club and the German Club involved their members in activities that helped increase their knowledge and appreciation of their respective languages. Additionally, an honor soceity for Spanish students was formed.

The German Club entered a float for the Homecoming celebrations. Finding it difficult to add to the 50's homecoming theme, the club worked diligently on a castle that they placed on top of the car for the parade.

The German Club activities also included selling their famous Gummy Bears in March. In June, the club took an outing to a local forest preserve to celebrate Mr. Gabbey's birthday and conversed in German.

The French Club also took part in many activities this year. They held a bake sale in November and enjoyed a delicious gourmet dinner at La Pôele d'Or restaurant in December.

The Spanish Honor Society was formed in March this year to cite achievement in the use of the language and knowledge of the culture. The charter members totaled 66.

"The cheers we see during the games were choreographed by the girls themselves," said sponser Ms. Falkenberg. The varsity squad has also "worked hard to get cheers for the other teams that were added to the list of sports which the cheerleaders now attend."

The efforts of the junior varsity cheerleaders did not go unnoticed by the junior varsity basketball team. Team members gave the girls corsages, baked cupcakes, and had a small party for them after the team's last game.

Success realized in many ways for Bisonettes and Drill Team

Success was realized in many ways for both the Drill Team and the Bisonettes this year.

Thirty-four girls won positions on the Drill Team out of the 100-120 who vied for positions on the team. In previous years 48 girls were selected for the team. The lesser number was chosen for this year's team because the members thought it would make the team "more conducive to better performances," said sponsor Lillian Croke.

Listing the team's major accomplishment as "consistency," Croke added that this year was "very successful; a good job was done at every performance."

Credit for this work must also go to the team's officers Lindsay Tollefson and Barb Hauge and lieutenants Leslie Griffith and Cheryl terHorst who provided "excellent leadership" according to Croke. The team's hectic season was brightened with new uniforms that the team is paying for by sponsoring a candy sale.

The 36 members of the Bisonettes also had a hectic schedule performing at games and assemblies. This year marked the first time the girls performed to the band's playing.

The Bisonettes also competed at the University of Wisconsin (Whitewater) pom pon summer camp where the girls won numerous awards for speed learning and originality. They were also selected as the most spirited group to attend the camp that summer.

The Bisonettes are headed by captain Barb Reiland, co-captains Tammy Gunn and Jean Kalinski, and sponsor Irene Whittington.

Band wins 34 awards; plays with Peter Nero

Winning 34 awards and playing with a world-renown pianist are not ordinary accomplishements for a high school band, but, then, the Bison Band is more than ordinary.

The Band began its award winning during the summer and has kept pace throughout the year. The summer Manisphere Competition held in Winnipeg, Canada yielded three awards: a first in marching, a second in concert, and a third in overall. In September the Band continued its award winning efforts by capturing a superior at the Wheeling Band Contest.

During the winter the group converts from a marching to a concert band with no change in the high quality of its performance. On March 5 the band took its talent to the IHSA State Solo and Ensemble Contest and took 29 of 32 first place awards.

1. With great amounts of concentration, the Bison band members work vigorously to perfect the dance step in the Gershwin show.
2. A perfect show, the result of hard work and great dedication.

Most productive year yet for CWT students

This has been C.W.T.'s most productive year. The employers have given excellent evaluations of the student's performances. Mr. Matter, director of the program, said his philosophy for C.W.T. evolves around five areas: (1) Attendance, (2) Attitude, (3) Respect, (4) Responsibility, and (5) Honesty.

The students in C.W.T. are allowed to pick a job. If they can't find one, Mr. Matter helps them. The types of jobs range from a factory worker to a secretary.

In the classroom, they are taught the fundamentals of balancing checkbooks, the importance of being on time, and what it takes to be a good employee.

C.W.T. helps the students explore the possibilities for a career. In addition the students earn two credits per year.

In the spring C.W.T. sponsors a banquet for the students and the employers. The employers are then honored with a plaque.

Health Club ends; H.E.R.O. building

Home Economics Related Occupations Club engaged in numerous activities this year to help its members understand the complexity of working in the food and child care industries. Health Careers Club helped its members learn many skills needed to help save lives and preserve good health in its final year of operation at Buffalo Grove.

H.E.R.O., under the direction of Mrs. Corti, helped students find jobs in the food industry. As a work program, the organization can help the members gain a total of two credit units through involvement in a job and other activities.

In addition to making the banners pictured on these pages, the members of H.E.R.O. participated in local winter and spring rallies, the state convention, and its annual employer-employee banquet.

Because of declining enrollment, Health Careers Club will disband this year. The club participated in numerous activities including helping with the annual Red Cross blood drive and attending C.P.R. life-saving classes at Northwest Community Hospital.

Varsity, concert choirs help brighten holidays

In addition to winning many awards this year, the members of the Varsity Choir and the Concert Choir helped to brighten the lives of many people in the area with their talents.

The twenty sophomore girls of the Varsity Choir made the holidays a little brighter for the residents of Adolorata Villa, and area convalescent center, when they performed there. In addition, members of the group brought cakes and brownies to the bed-ridden patients who could not attend their performance.

During the holidays the Concert Choir sang to the commuters departing from the trains at the Chicago and Northwestern Railway depot in Arlington Heights. They also shared their Christmas music with patrons of the Marriott Lincolnshire.

Members of these choirs have entered many contests and come back with numerous prestigious awards. At the Illinois High School Association contest March 5, four of the five soloists entered received first place ratings, and Heidi Crosland was placed on the all state chorus.

Swing choir formed; numerous awards won

The formation of a new swing musical group and numerous awards marked the major accomplishments of several singing groups this year. Additionally, the Expressions, New Generation, and Freshman Choir have taken part in numerous concerts and performed for many groups outside the school.

The New Generation was formed by Mr. Boyd White this year. The girl swing choir has been well-received by the audience at the Yuletide Festival and at an April educators meeting in Springfield.

The Expressions have been very active this year continuing their performances at various area nursing homes. The group's major performance effort was their own Expressions Concert held April 30. In addition, the group captured a first place in the annual Illinois High School Association Contest.

"This year's Freshman Choir is an extremely active, talented, and enthusiastic group," said sponsor Miss Linda McEachran. The chorus was given added power this year by the addition of twenty extra voices.

Council has new ideas; Orchestra gets invitations

Student Council combined new ideas with old traditions for a constructive 1976-77 year. The Orchestra received many invitations to prestigious music conferences.

New ideas for entertainment, profit, and service included on Student Council's calendar were: painting a Bison mural on the gymnasium wall, and producing a "Seniors '77 Competition." Student Council members also collected coins from students to help sponsor an Indian orphan.

The North District Symphony Orchestra won invitations to three prestigious music meetings this year. Dec. 14 the orhcestra traveled to Chicago to perform for the Mid-West National Band and Orchestra Clinic. They also were one of three orchestras to perform at the Butler University Concert Series in Indianapolis Jan. 23.

1. For Student Council members, Valentine's Day was a huge bed of roses.
2. Debbie Roderick and Sue Fox separate the thorns from the roses before they are delivered to the students.
3. Student Council officers. FRONT ROW: Bill Libit, Linda Shoemaker, Leslie Hyland. ROW 2: Cindy McFarland, Kendra Martin.
4. Mr. Fowler looks towards the string section as he conducts.
5. Kiwanis Day was made more successful by students like these soliciting contributions.

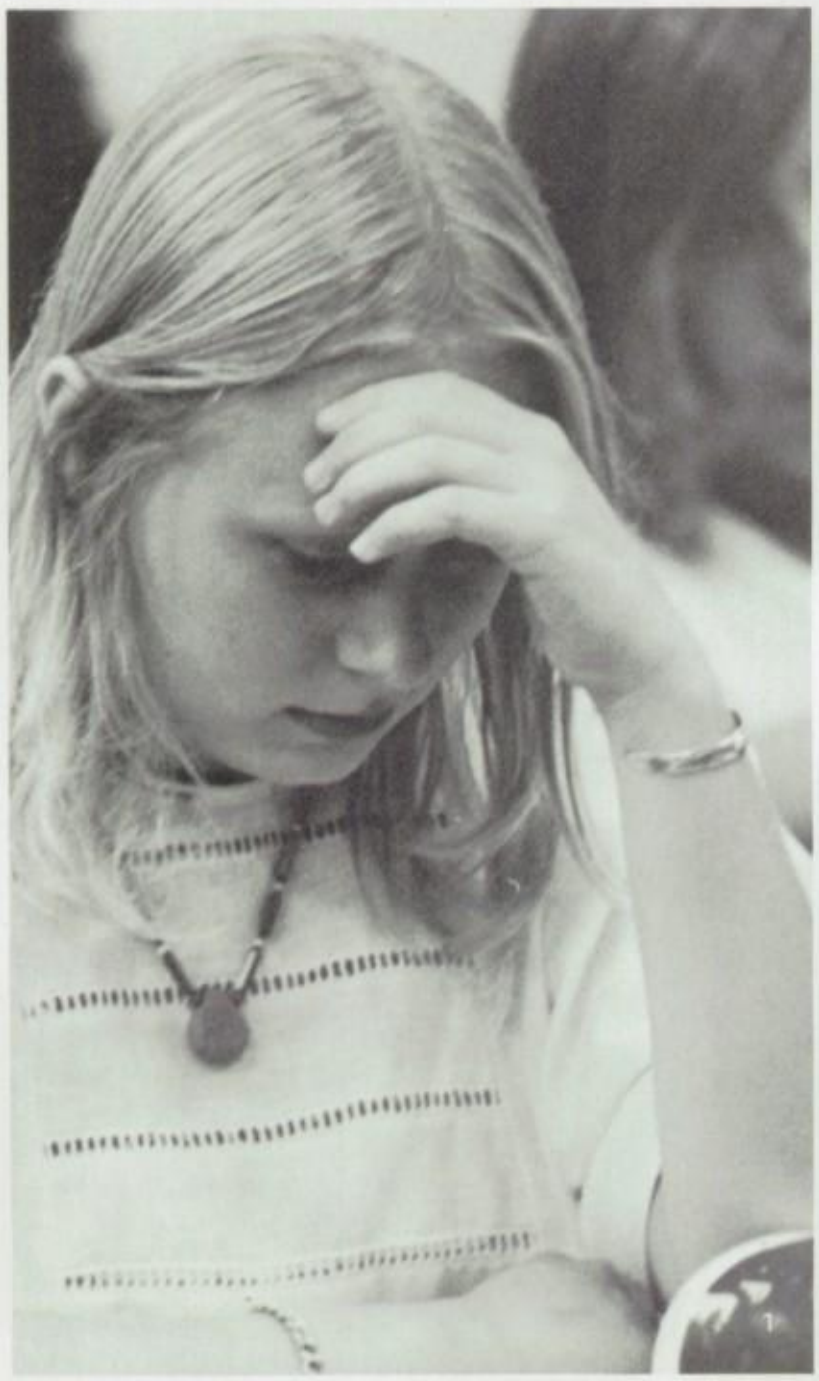
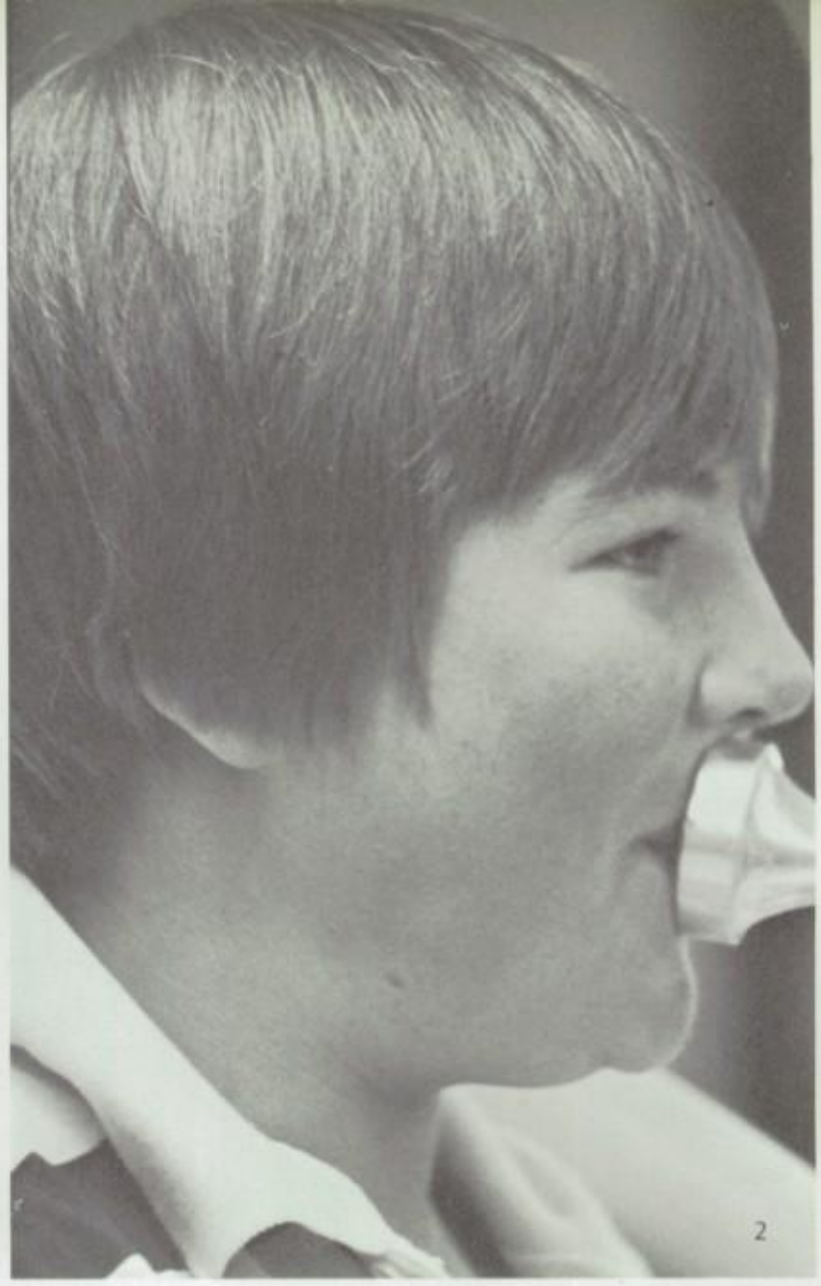
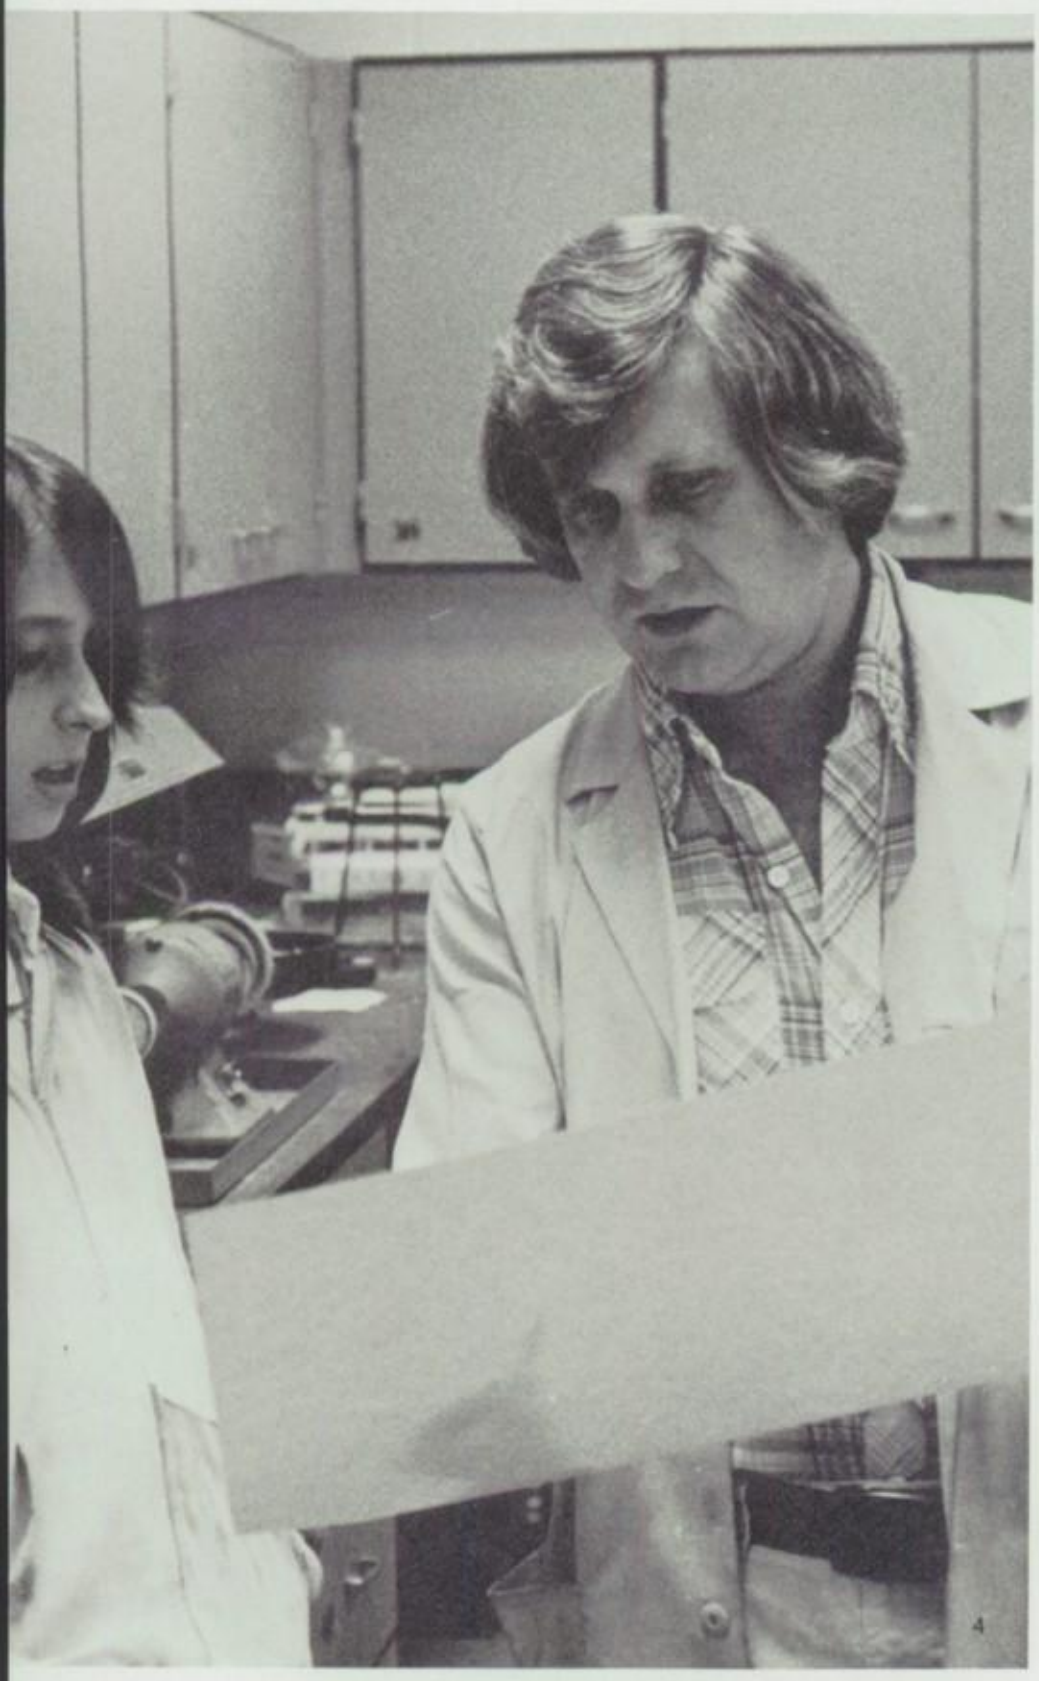
HIGHWAYS

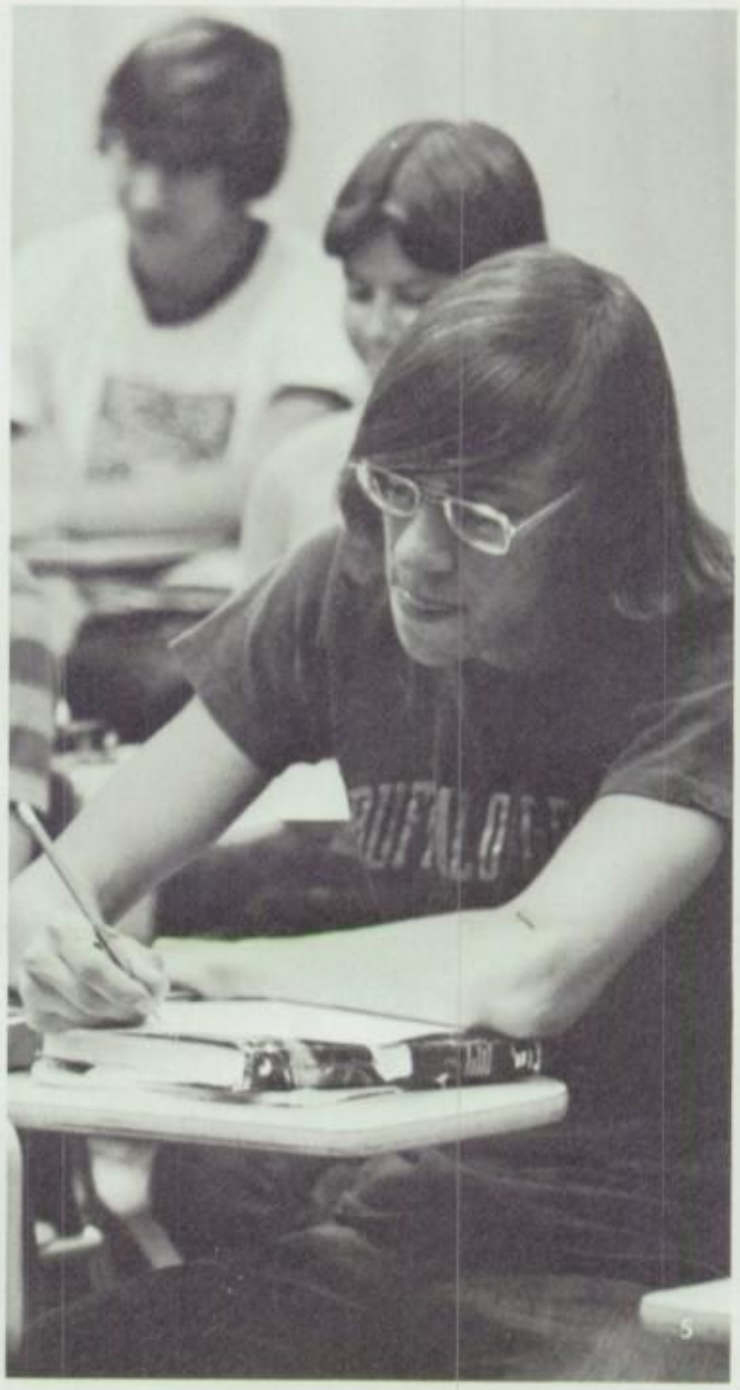




1. Jeanne Swanson, '78, engrossed in an exciting book provided for students in the English-Fine Arts Division.
2. Showing his spirit, Bob Leckie practices for Saturday's game.
3. Mr. White shows the Freshmen how to get the fullest sound.
4. Pointing out the quality of Mary Fox's picture is Mr. Feldsein.
5. "Will it be a turkey lunch or a hot dog and shake?" thinks Chris Hilvert, '78, to himself as he reads in English class.

English-Fine Arts finds ways for students' self expression





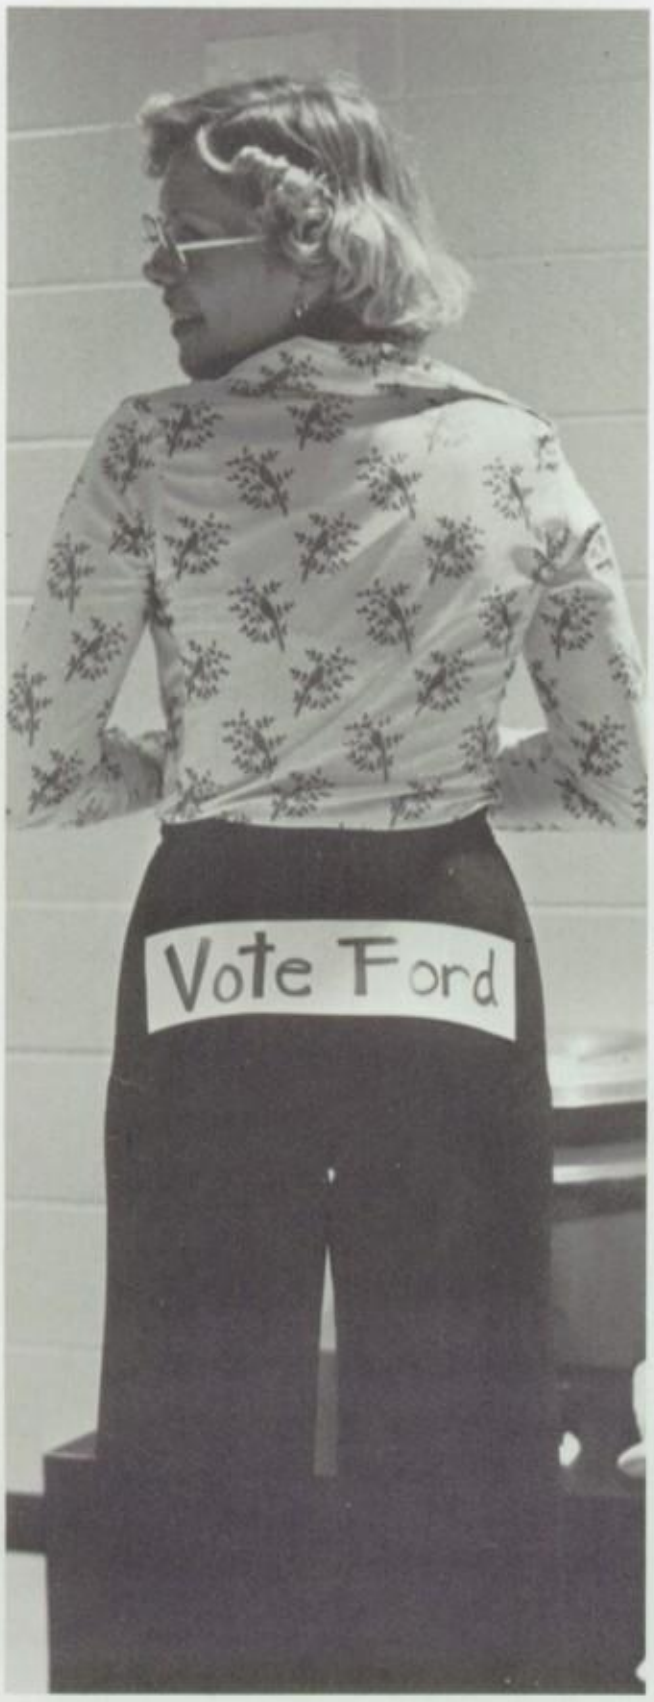
The English-Fine Arts Division continued to help its students find new kinds of fulfillment through its classes."Brian Allsmiller, who is 6'8" revealed, for the first time in my American Literature class that he's afraid of heights," said Ms. Larson.

Some teachers will go to almost any extent for their students. Mr. Winter asked a woman disc jockey to talk to his Mass Media class about radio, but how he did this is another story.

Winter said, "I called into a radio station and talked to a woman disc jockey on WXRT. She'd never been to a prom. So, I invited her to the Buffalo Grove Prom and asked her if she'd talk to my Mass Media class about radio."

Many of the students have won awards this year. "Christ Kanoles won a writing award for a science fiction short story 'Krolkan the Wanderer'," said Mr. Winter. "Steve Potempa won an art contest," said Mr. Feldsein.

Students get insight to politics through mock election.



1. Robin Ruetenik displays her bumper sticker.
2. Fred Kruse bringing voters to the poles.
3. Rich Grove shows the intensiveness required to do well in history.
4. Dave Greene uses the foreign language headphones to work on pronunciation.
4. Mr. Riccio's students await the results of a Constitution test.

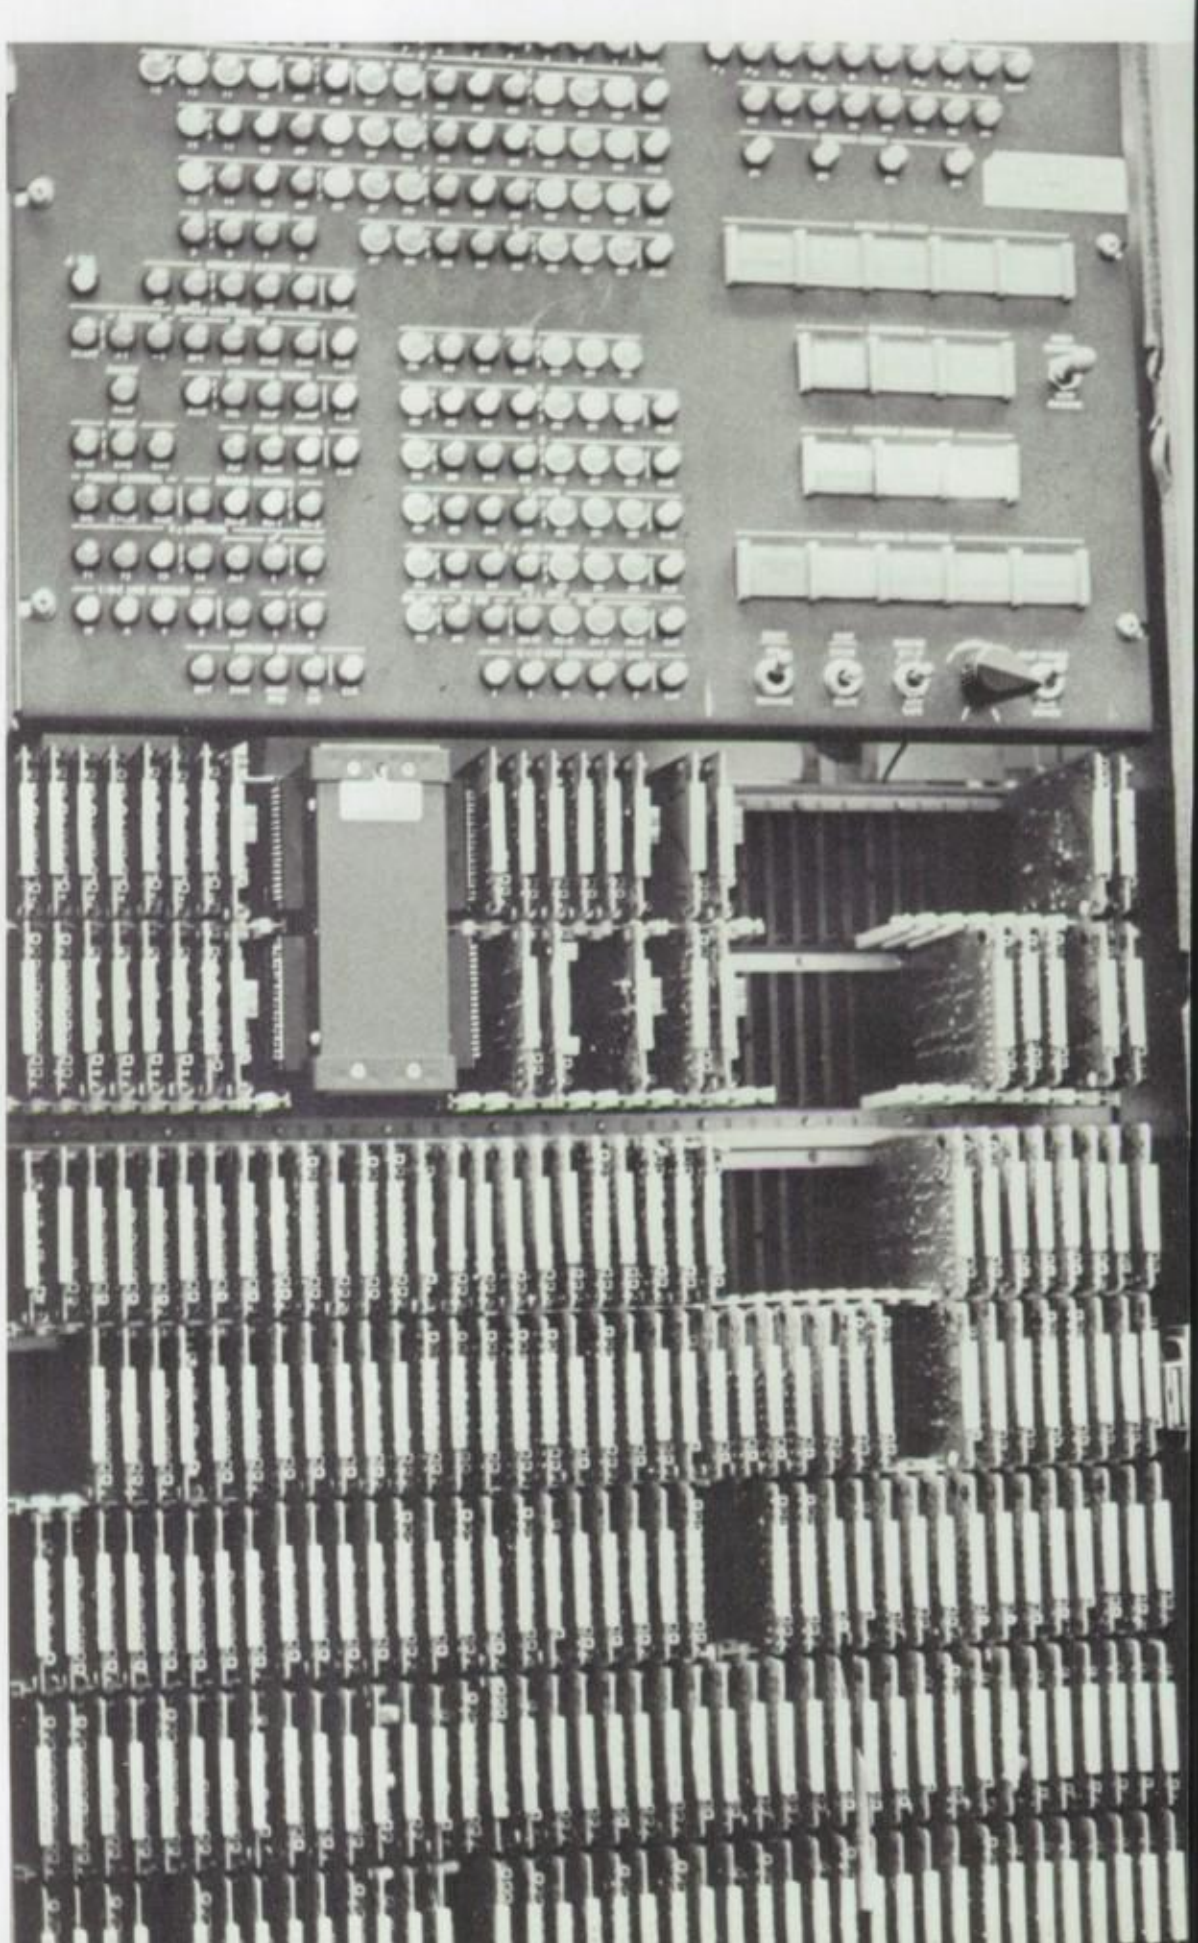
A mock election held in conjunction with the national election Nov. 2 highlighted the Social Science-Foreign Language Division activities this year. The mock election, under sponsors Ms. Hertel and Mr. Darnell, was held in the theatre.

The students who participated in the election picked the candidate of their choice, and worked on his campaign. They made video tapes on which they interviewed representatives of each candidate and held rallies to influence the voters.

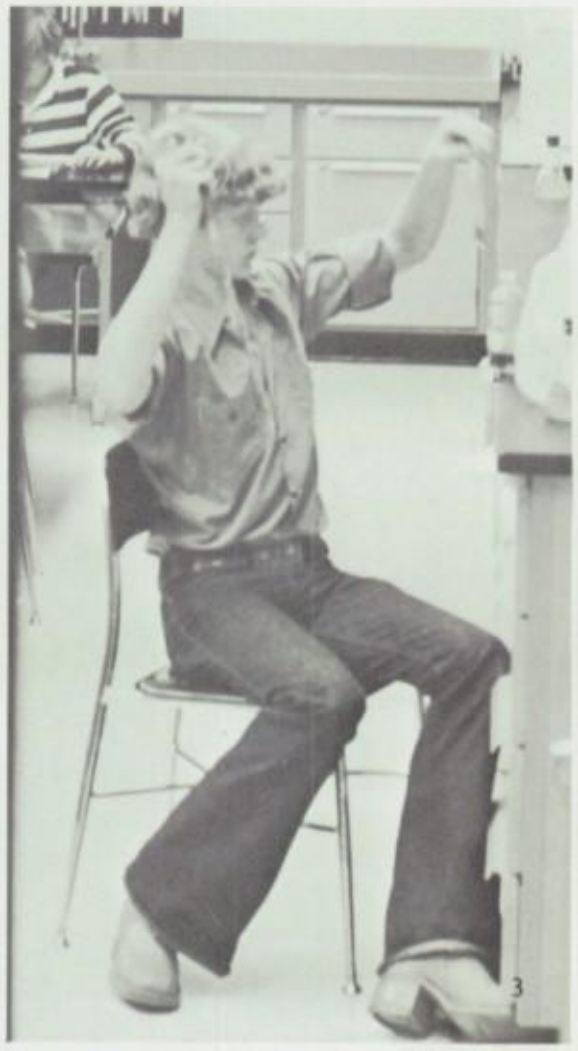
The department also planned many trips this year. French classes have dined at Naperville North Central College and Chez Paul restaurant. Students were required to order in French.

The Spanish classes have gone to, Barat College, Lake Forest, where they listened to a group of traditional Spanish singers and dancers. They have also gone to Christmas Around the World Exhibit at the Museum of Science and Industry, Chicago.

Math-Science begins college-level math course, unit on deaf



1. Keeping the biology animals in good condition is Dave Obos.
2. Freshmen Bob Wijus and Mark Tenuta complete one of their biology labs.
3. Proving that a pipette is more accurate than a beaker is biology student John Galligan.
4. Discussing a special project are Mr. Mann and Mr. Duncker.
5. Helping Gary Adelizzi with his homework is Ms. Colville.
6. Delphi I is the youngest member of the staff at only ten years old.
7. Linda Errico and Dawn Nelms learn the process of blood typing.
8. Mr. Barret is one of the many teachers that is happy to help a student with a problem.

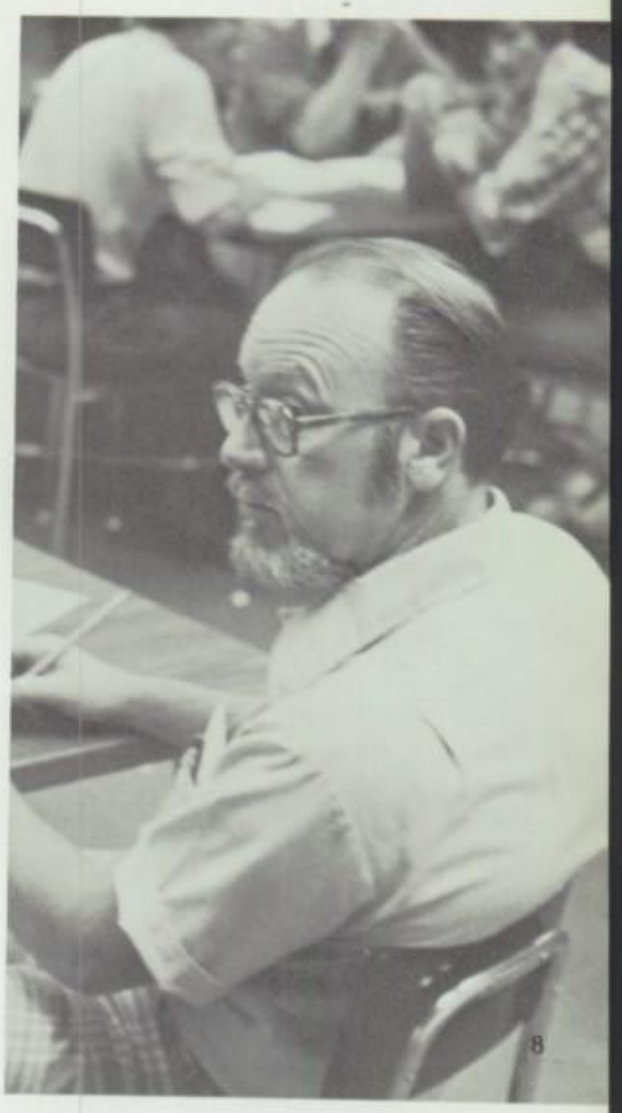


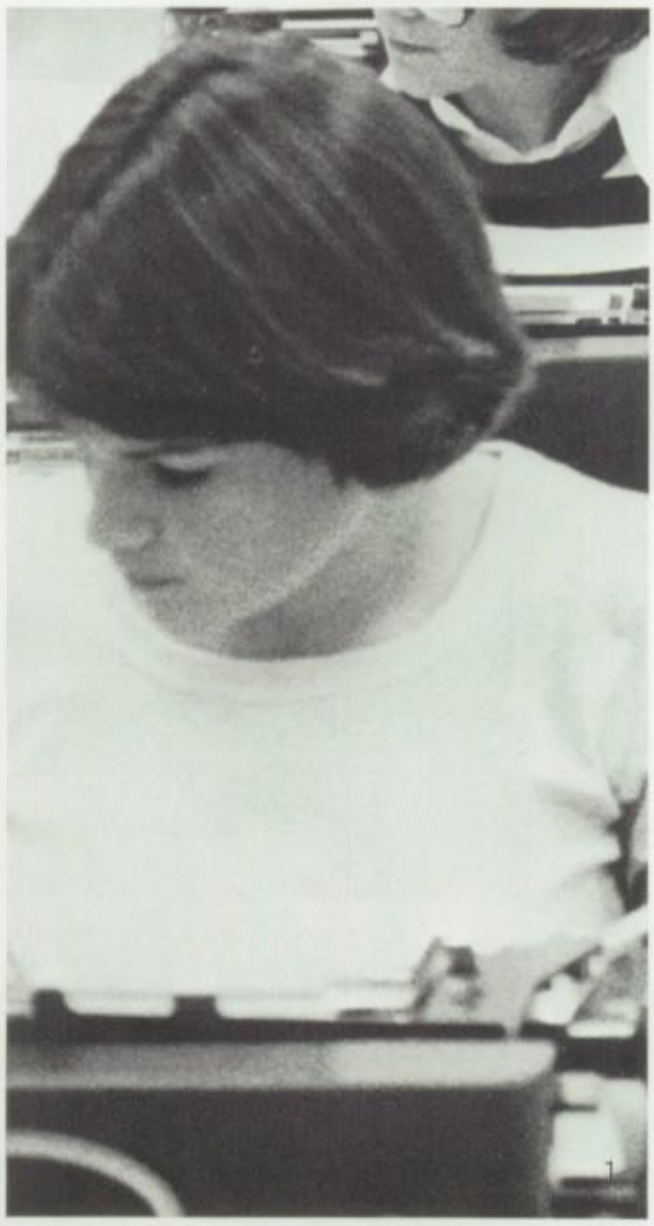
A new probability and statistics class was added to Math-Science Department this year. The course is college level and helps prepare students to pass proficiency exams for college credit. Mr. Mann, teacher of the course, said, "I am not pleased with the way they teach it from the book, but I am pleased with the Monte Carlo method I am currently using in. The Monte Carlo method is a simulation of real world probability.

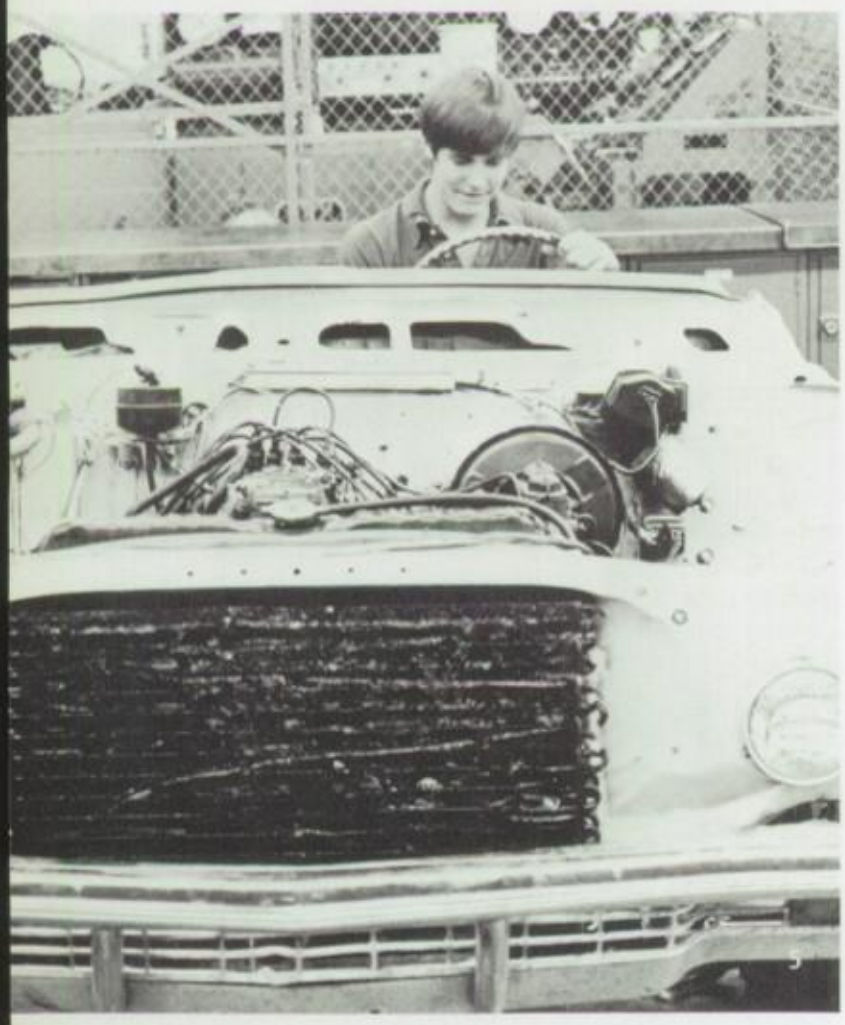
Students have demonstrated a high interest in computer use. According to Mr. Dunker, division head, the number of students using the computer has surpassed enrollment records from the last four years at Buffalo Grove.

A new unit has been added to the Biology I class. Mr. Dorn and all other freshmen biology teachers have set up a unit on communication with the deaf. All the students wished the unit could be extended.

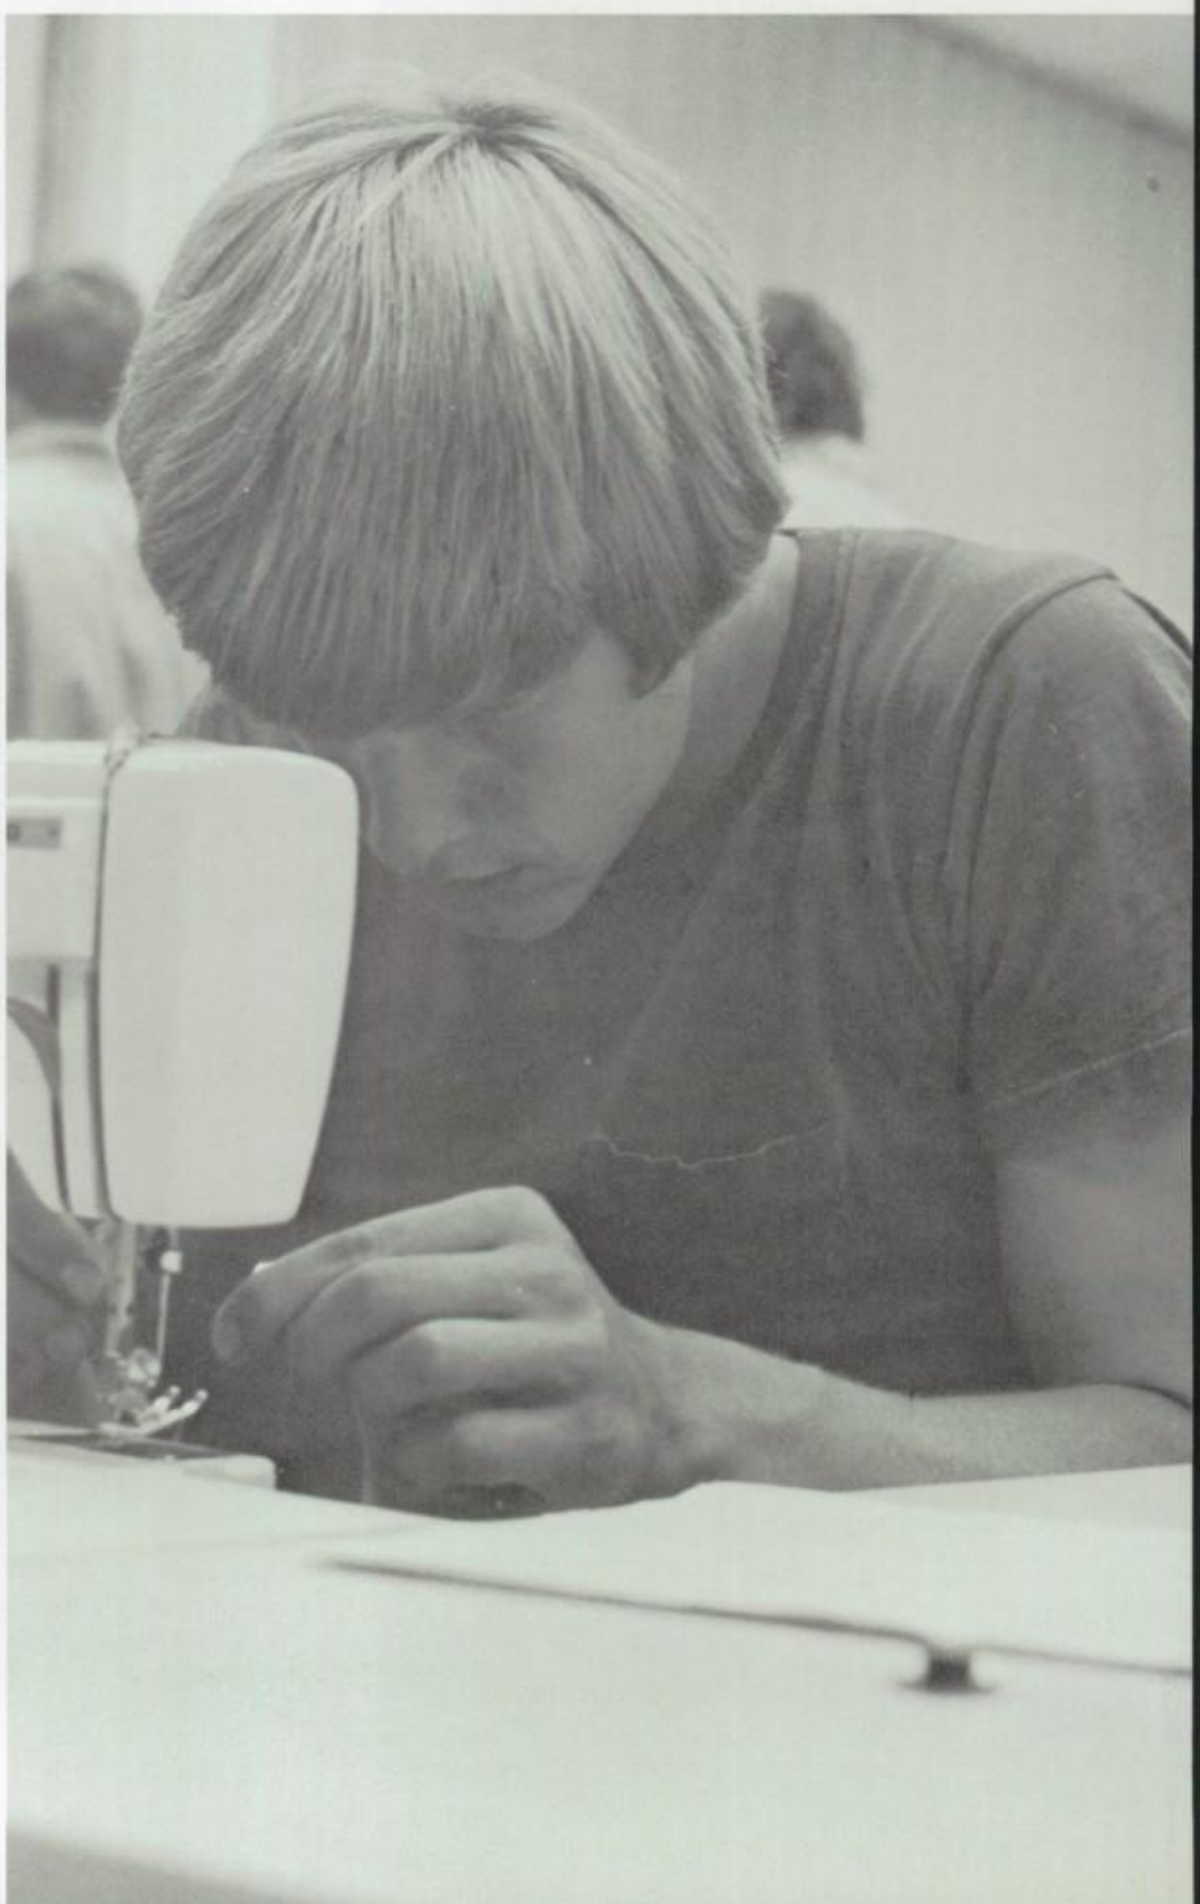
Assistant principal Mr. Schnell was happy with the increased use of experiments in physical science exploritory course. He felt the experiments have developed a positive attitude towards science in many students.

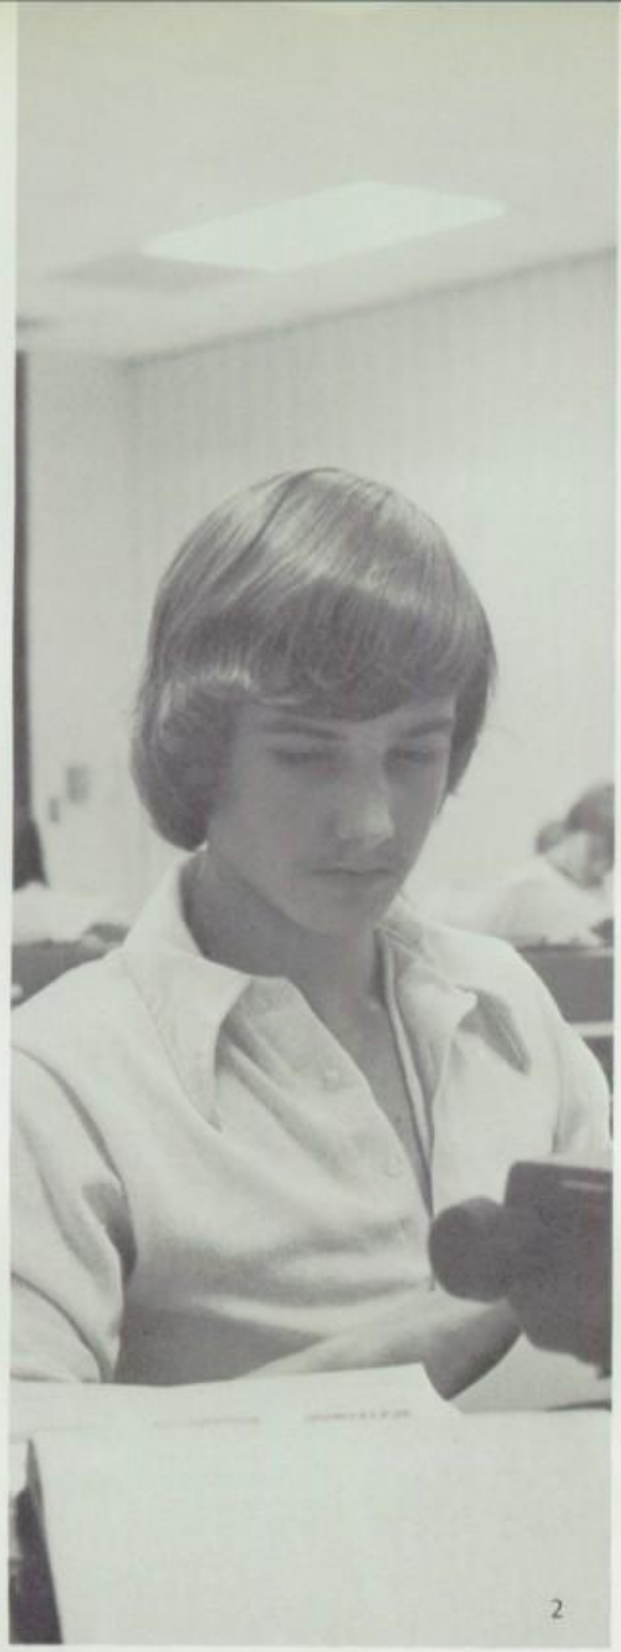






Bachelor's survival takes name change as two new clubs are added





The title Bachelors Survival was changed to Independent Living this year. The change reflected a district anti-discrimination decision against all-male or female classes. Because of this decision, male enrollment in the classes dropped, and female enrollment was stable.

There are four clubs related to the Practical Arts Division. Two new clubs were added to the existing clubs. Radio Club started in the fall. The clubs had a lot of fox hunts. In fox hunts one member is picked to play the fox, and other members try to find him using their radios.

In the spring, Auto Club was formed. According to division head Mr. Burke, the club represented the school in state and national competition. Derbys, races, or auto shows were part of the competition.

May 15 Randhurst Shopping Center sponsors an industrial fair. Buffalo Grove students exhibited many wood and metal projects.

1. Sheer determination is what you find in typing classes.
2. Dave Duran polishes up on his typing skills.
3. Matt Abar practices his wood skills.
4. Lori Williams and Rachael Weiderhold concentrate on cooking.
5. Doug Funk tools with his favorite car.
6. Part of Independent Living is learning to sew as Rob Ralston shows, making his apron.
7. Kevin Finn learns about metals.

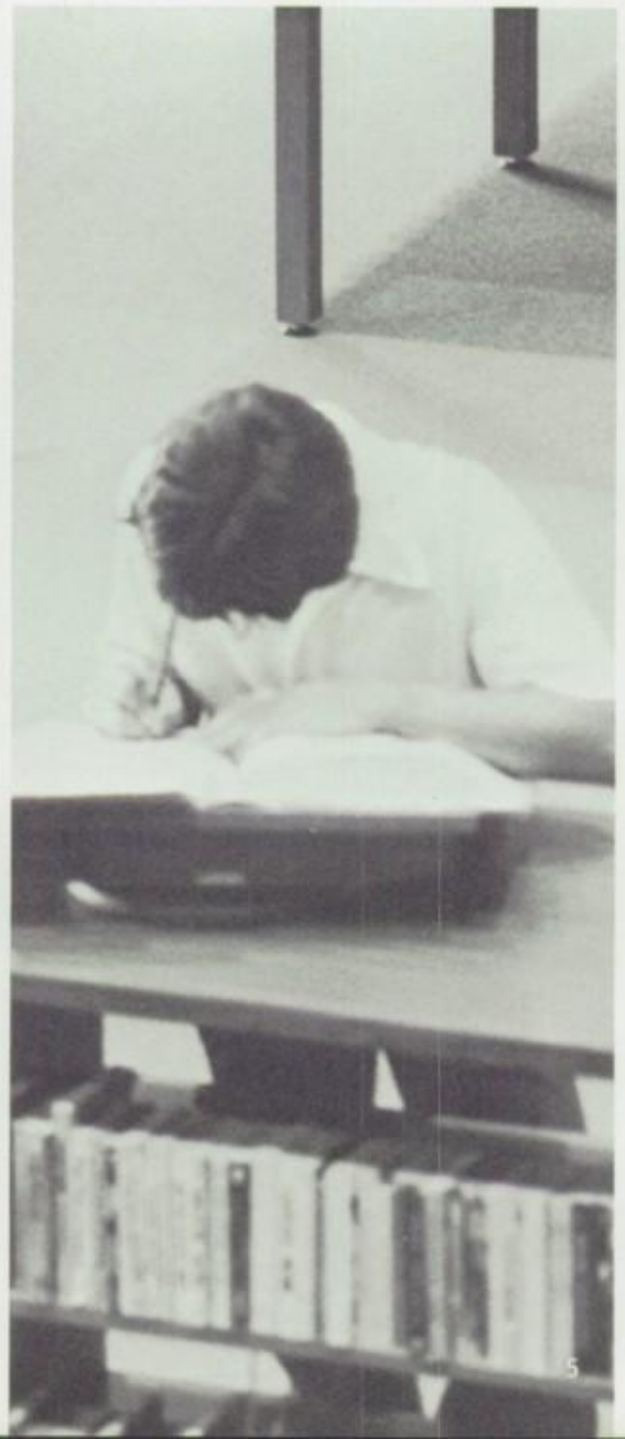
Library, cafeteria offer food for thought and nourishment

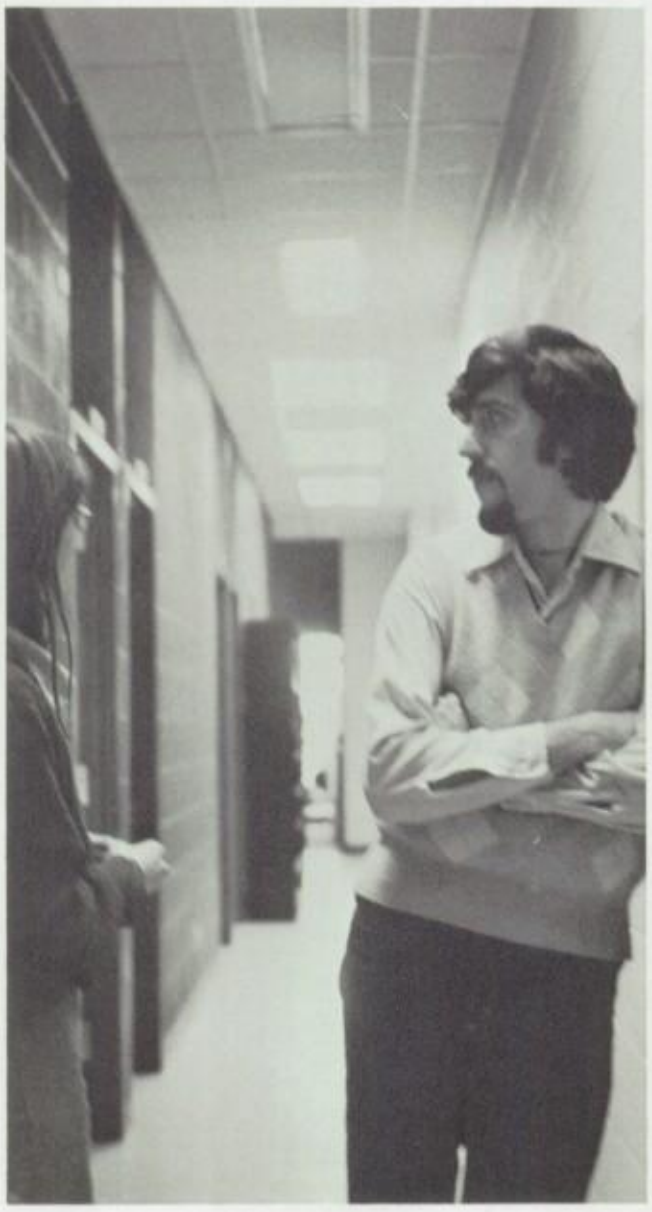
1. The stacks are a source for pleasure reading and research. Circulation of all types of materials was up this year.
2. Mrs. Cooke dishes up a helping of turkey, dressing, and mashed potatoes; favorites here at B.G.
3. Cindy Langois unloads her tray after lunch.
4. Resting her eyes from study, senior Debbie Johnson talks to a friend in the library.
5. Look at those goodies - the dessert lines are always filled with delights to fill in the empty spaces.
6. Webster gets a workout by this student looking up new words.

Two of the most important places in B.G. are the library and cafeteria. Without them, students wouldn't be able to do research, or more important, restore the food needed for their minds and bodies.

This year, a glass partition was put around the balcony. The purpose of the partition was to prevent students from throwing objects over it and into the library. Previously, objects from desks to confetti and paper airplanes have been tossed causing annoyance, and a safety hazard. The library has also added a great many more titles to its collection including many paperbacks.

The cafeteria staff celebrated holidays with special treats such as candy canes, and a Chinese New Year celebration.





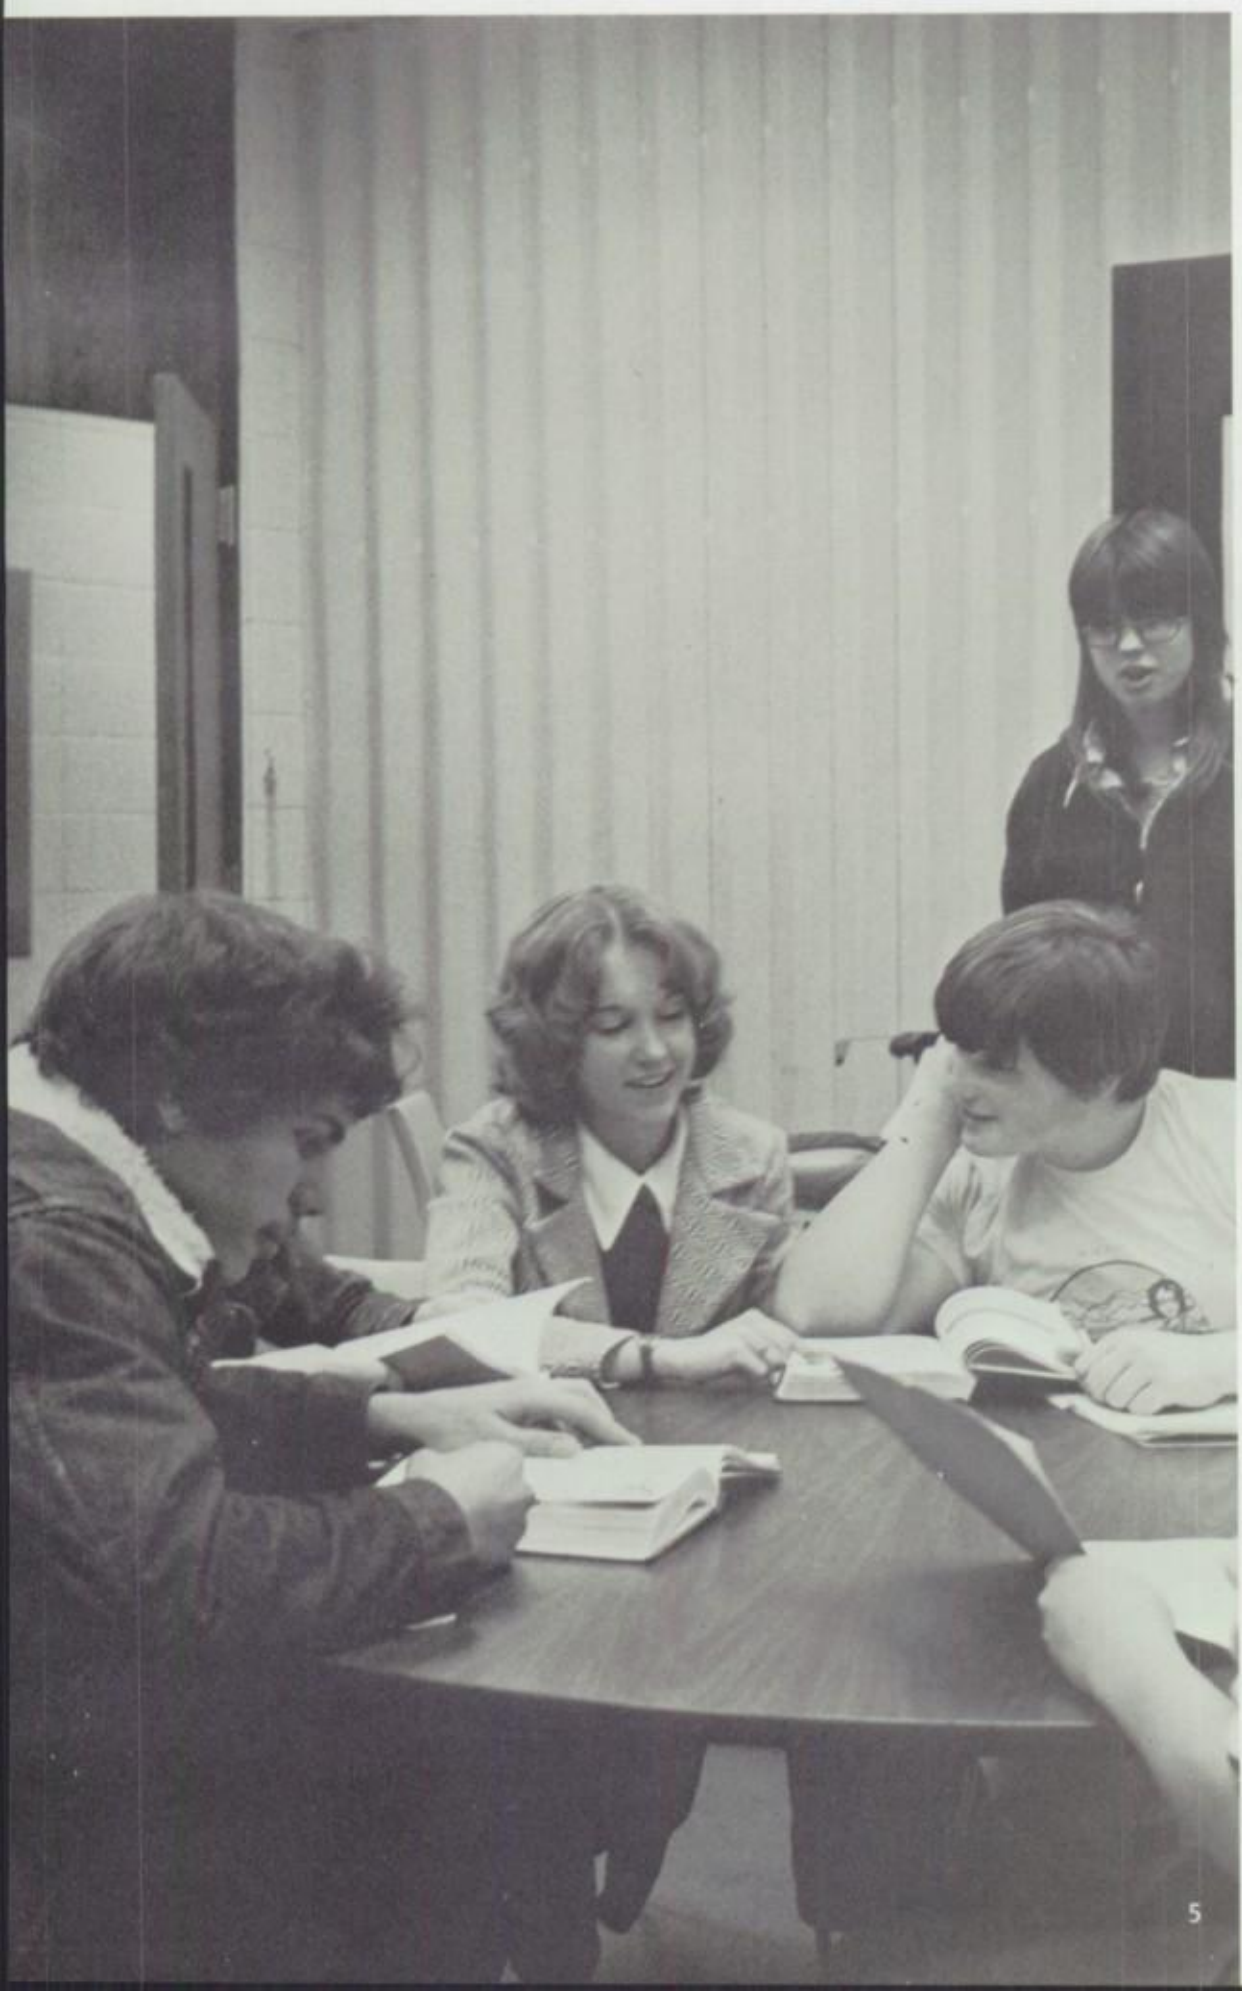
The Counseling Department's Individual Resource Program has made itself more available through classroom visitations.

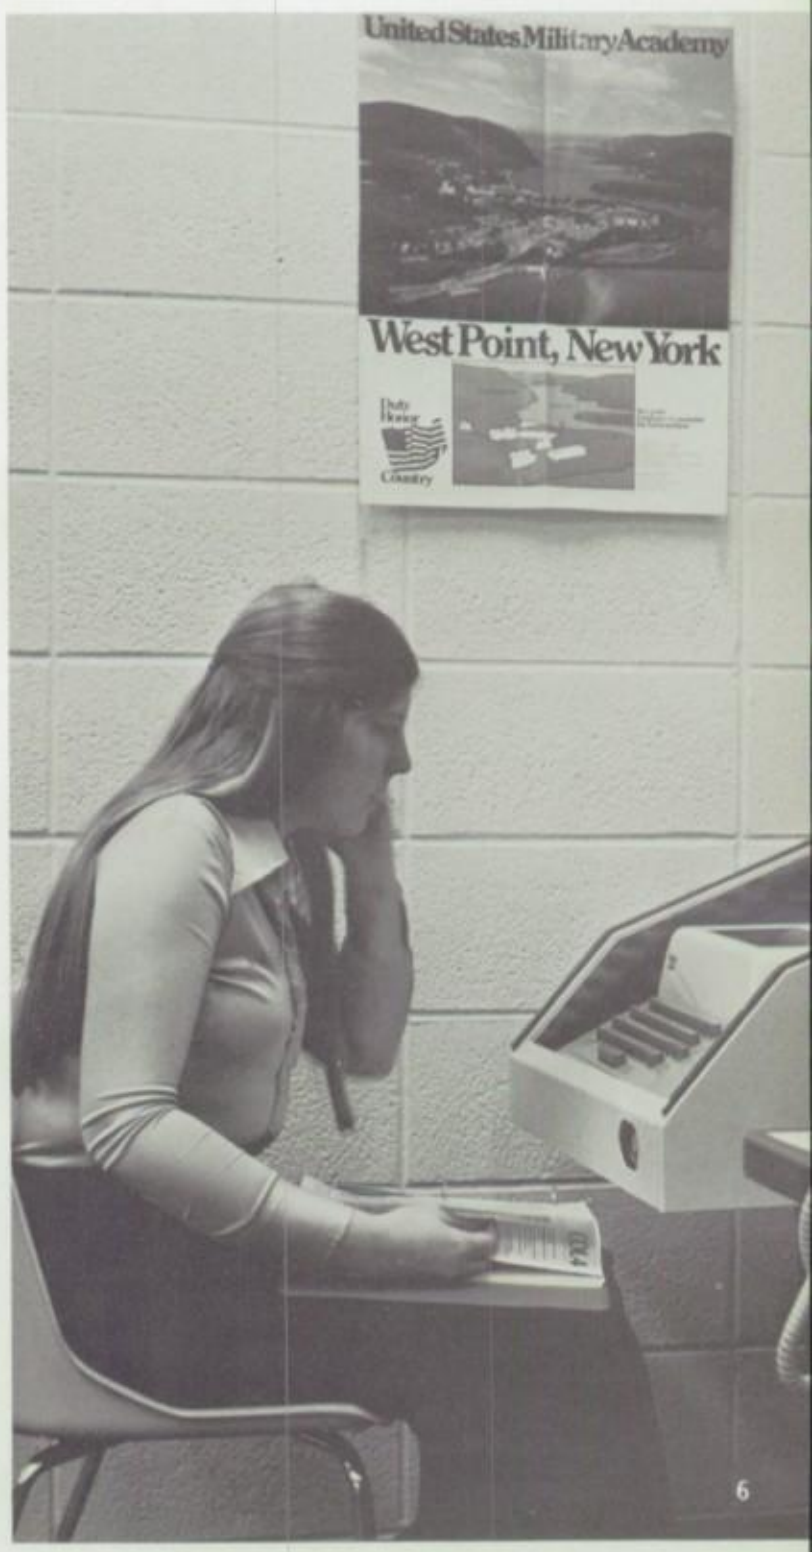
Previously, students who have had difficulties in doing their work would go to the Individual Resource Room, and the teacher would assist them there.

Now IR teachers Miss Christainson, English; Mr. Cornfield, Science; and Mrs. McLean, Math, are going into classrooms for courses like General Biology, Reading Skills, and Algebra to help students while they are in class.

This is most effective because this program gives reinforcement of learing, immediately.

Classroom visitations make resource program accessible





1. Angelique Draftz checks out different college programs.
2. Mrs. Maragret Kramer discusses college entrance requirements with Debbie Fox.
3. The College career room keeps extensive files on careers and colleges.
4. Counselor Mr. Mike Intile advises Debbie Koch about her classes.
5. Individual Resource teacher Miss Ann Christainson helps students during their free hour.
6. Linda Cooley waits patiently for the results from the college career computer.

The Physical Education Department has taken on many new rule changes this year; since they have been enforced, there has been a noticeable improvement in dress and attendance.

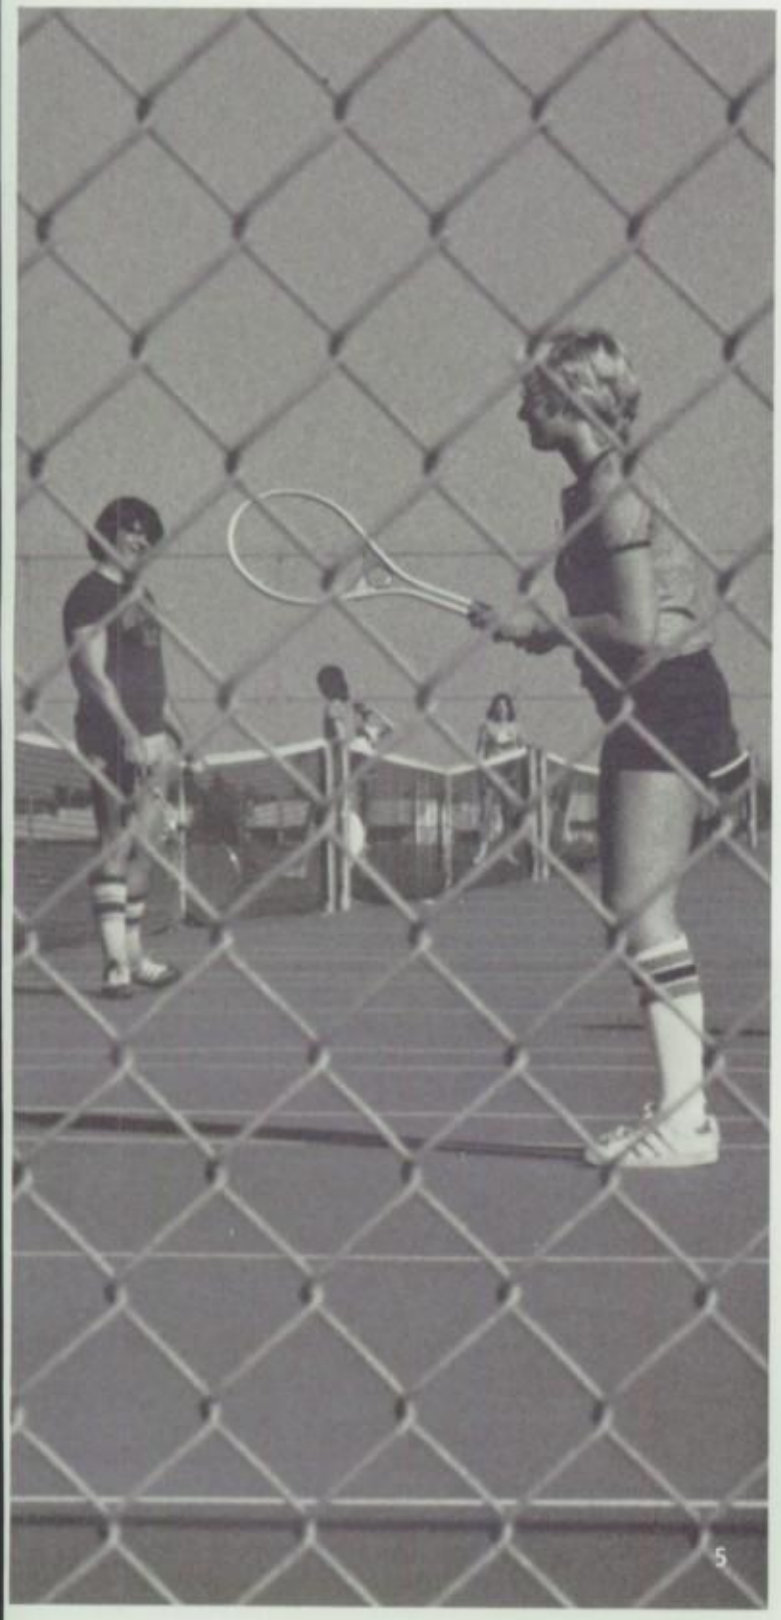
"The students have acted much better toward Physical education. It's because they know we mean business," Coach Pruitt said. "They are easier to get along with, and most of them seem to be enjoying themselves."

Physical education offers a total elective program for each season. Students sign up for the sports and activities they are interested in.

There are very few courses to choose from during the winter season due to the lack of space. The most popular course during the winter season is co-ed volleyball. Pat Volkmann said, "We like it because its all just for fun."

During the spring quarter, the popularity of tennis was demonstrated by heavy enrollment in tennis sections.

Physical education rule changes improve attendance and attitude



1. Dan MacIsaac develops physical strength and endurance using the weight machine.
2. Lindsay Tollefson shows partner Sue Fox the right way to follow through.
3. Chris Gaddis and Ted Dubbs listen closely to instructions given during skill testing.
4. Nancy Noerenberg and Shelly McFarland watch while their opponent tries to get shuttlecock out of the bleachers.
5. Michelle Brusseau stands ready to return a serve.
6. One of the most popular classes for boys is football.

People watching from the library balcony has always been a popular before school activity.

Editors' Statement

Each of our journeys through this year has had its own special interests and experiences to make it unique for each of us. Yet there have been common elements, things along the road we have shared — a special event, a special class, a special person, a special feeling. It is to these shared experiences that we have directed our coverage in this year's issue of the STAMPEDE.

Hopefully when you look back on your personal journey through this year by leafing through the pages of this book, it will bring back memories of events that have helped make you the person you are today.

Acknowledgements

The staff of the STAMPEDE would like to thank the people that helped in the production of the '77 STAMPEDE: the Buffalo Grove Fire Department for coming once a week to save our little lives; Schmitt Studios of Oak Park for their expert photography; Steve Potempa for his caricature of the basketball team; our American Yearbook Company representative Dennis Eder for his continuous encouragement; Mark Thompson for his technical assistance and moral support; the staff of the CHARGER for returning our pictures in almost one piece. No thanks however, should go to our advisor Mr. James O'Neill for being so calm and not putting any pressure on his staff; our hearing will never be the same! Lastly, we would like to thank the student body for their tremendous support on the decision for fall distribution of this years's STAMPEDE.
